COMMUNITY NEWS & UPDATE

By Kenneth D. Colen, Publisher

As I was writing this column, I noticed that the dog fennel finally went to bloom on Wednesday, Oct. 9. It was hard to miss a sudden event like that, with well over 50% going to bloom over-night. I mention this because the dog fennel seems to bloom about 30 days before a frost. Let's see how close they are this year.

The On Top of the World family of communities is an incredibly generous and charitable community. The annual food drive to help stock Interfaith Emergency Services is kicking off on Friday, Nov. 29. For the past two years, the communities have donated enough non-perishable food items to the pantry to fill a 34-foot box truck completely full, and then some!

Many projects have been initiated and supported by our residents that benefit the Marion County community. There are also more close to home examples of kindness. The resident who prepares a meal for a sick neighbor or helps the recently widowed is an example of the caring mindset of so many residents.

Your generosity doesn't stop there. The Candler Hills Men's Golf Association has undertaken some very impressive projects directed to active duty service members. In support of National Breast Cancer month, the On Top of the World Ladies Golf Association hosted a very successful Rally for the Cure, and Health & Recreation rallied a team to walk in the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk. Many of our resident clubs donate money to various charities throughout the year - Hospice of Marion County, Interfaith Emergency Services, March of Dimes and many other worthwhile organizations.

Taking stock and being grateful for all we do have is a very positive thing to do. It can change your entire outlook.

General Update

Work continues to progress on the SW 90th Street entrance. We anticipate paving to be completed in late October. Please be mindful of the new traffic pattern and make allowance while workers are present. Expect lane closures when work is begun on the construction of the new gatehouse building. We anticipate that the building construction will take approximately 60 days from the start of construction to completion and operation.

Work began in mid-October on the SW 99th Street entry. This is largely a landscape and drainage improvement project. Some of the larger bushes were removed to improve the sight line visibility to in-bound traffic while crossing from SW 83rd Terrace. By the time this column is published, we anticipate the work to have been completed.

That said, work will begin in November on a roof replacement on the gatehouse. There will be lane closures during the day when workers are present. Please drive cautiously and anticipate a delayed entry into the community while gate staff is processing visitors. Thank you in advance for your patience.

Master the Possibilities

With well over 100 programs set to begin in November, the choices are many and the variety is indeed impressive. This fall season has broken all records for attendance and November will welcome more than 2,000 registrations.

When we think of November, the highlight is always Thanksgiving. The staff and faculty wish to thank all of the students who make Master the Possibilities an integral part of our community. I, too, am grateful for the overwhelming support of the community.

I also recognize the dedication and talent that have made Master the Possibilities the success it is. We all have a lot to be thankful for ... including many more possibilities to master.

The Town Square

Now that the cooler weather has finally arrived, spend your weekend evenings on The Town Square listening to live music by your favorite performers and dancing with friends. Dress your best and shake your groove thing at a themed "Disco Night" on Friday, Nov. 30. Remember that Friday and Saturday night entertainment switches back to 5 to 9 p.m. this month.

Circle Square Cultural Center

The 2014 winter/spring line-up has been released! See the Circle Square Cultural Center ad on page 22 for details of performers, dates and ticket prices. There is a wonderful variety of events to see. Tickets are already on sale and can be purchased online or at the box office.

Entertainment this month features Karen Durrant in a Tina Turner tribute on Saturday, Nov. 9, Chris Chan's musical tribute to Barry Manilow on Saturday, Nov. 16, and the Opera Tampa Singers ushering in the holiday season with a performance on Saturday, Nov. 23. Don't miss any of it!

Tai Chi was one of three fitness components of Fresh Air Fitness on Saturday, Oct. 5.

Fresh Air Fitness

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

Fresh Air Fitness was held on Saturday, Oct. 5 at The Town Square to get folks out in the fresh air doing fitness exercises.

The On Top of the World Communities sponsored event consisted of a one or two-mile walk, Tai Chi and Zumba.

At 8 a.m., the walk started at the Town Square and circled around the Commons. Cammy Dennis, fitness director for On Top of the World and The Ranch, stated that the course was a one-mile loop enabling the walker to do the course once or twice. "The course was perfectly designed for that purpose," Cammy added.

At 9 a.m., Tai Chi was the next scheduled fitness event with many participants. Tai Chi is a Chinese martial art that provides great health benefits. "Tai Chi drew the most participants for our Fresh Air Fitness event" Cammy stated. At the conclusion of Tai Chi, students of this martial arts program put on a demonstration.

At 10 a.m., the final fitness event was a Zumba bash! Zumba involves dance and aerobic elements. Dance consisted of hip-hop, salsa, salsa, mambo, meringue, and even some kickboxing. According to one participant who partook in all three events, Zumba was her favorite portion of the exercise event.

Barb Roberts who participates in many exercise events within our community stated, "Zumba is a lot of fun and I enjoy it. We sweat a lot. Zumba is my favorite exercise. It's high energy."

Physical exercise helps maintain healthy weight, building and maintaining bone density along with muscle strength and joint mobility, plus many other important health issues such as preventing heart disease. Studies have shown that exercise, such as walking, may also help prevent Alzheimer's and dementia.

Cammy Dennis stated, "We want to make Fresh Air Fitness an on going event in cooler weather." See you at the next Fresh Air Fitness event. Good things can come to your body with exercise!

Join the festivities and participate in a cake walk for charity (ticketed event), fair games, and face painting while you munch on kettle corn, cotton candy and fair food. Sit a spell and listen to live country music as you enjoy the cooler fall weather. Bring the grandchildren to this family friendly event.

Club Fair Wows Residents

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

What a great turnout at this year's Club Fair on Thursday, Sept. 26! Hundreds of residents flocked to the Health & Recreation Ballroom to see what clubs, both new and long running ones, had to offer.

One of the nicest displays was the Model Railroad Club. There was a fantastic large HO gauge layout with a winter scene drawing the attention of all would-be railroaders. The RC Flyers covered the stage with many types of radio controlled model airplanes.

The Southern Club was a big hit by serving cornbread along with black-eyed peas and other delectable southern food. The S.P.C.A. served coffee and doughnuts.

Other clubs consisted of fitness, sewing, quilting, woodworking, travel, political, food and the list of different clubs continues. The total number of clubs at this year's event covered most of the allotted floor space.

This yearly event provides residents a taste of what clubs are available and to help the clubs obtain additional membership.

Is It Legal?

By Gerald Colen

SCAM ALERT: There is yet another deed scam going around. It appears to be an offshoot of the certified copy of deed scam. This one comes from some company that calls itself Department of Housing & Deeds, LLC. They want $76. The document they send appears to be an invoice, although it is not that at all. At the end of the second page of the document that they call a recommendation, there is what they call "Important Disclosure." The disclosure says, "The Department of Housing and Deeds, LLC is a privately owned limited liability company and is not a government agency or department or any state or federal government."

Please pay attention and please tell anyone you know that this, in my opinion, is a scam. You do not need a copy of your deed. For that matter, if you did want one, you could get it for less than $10 if you went to the clerk of courts. You can do better than that because if you go online to the clerk of courts website, and type in your address, you can download a copy of your deed at no cost at all. Toss this letter and any one like it into your shredder.

Do not fall for any scam that suggests that you need any kind of copy of your deed. You don't!

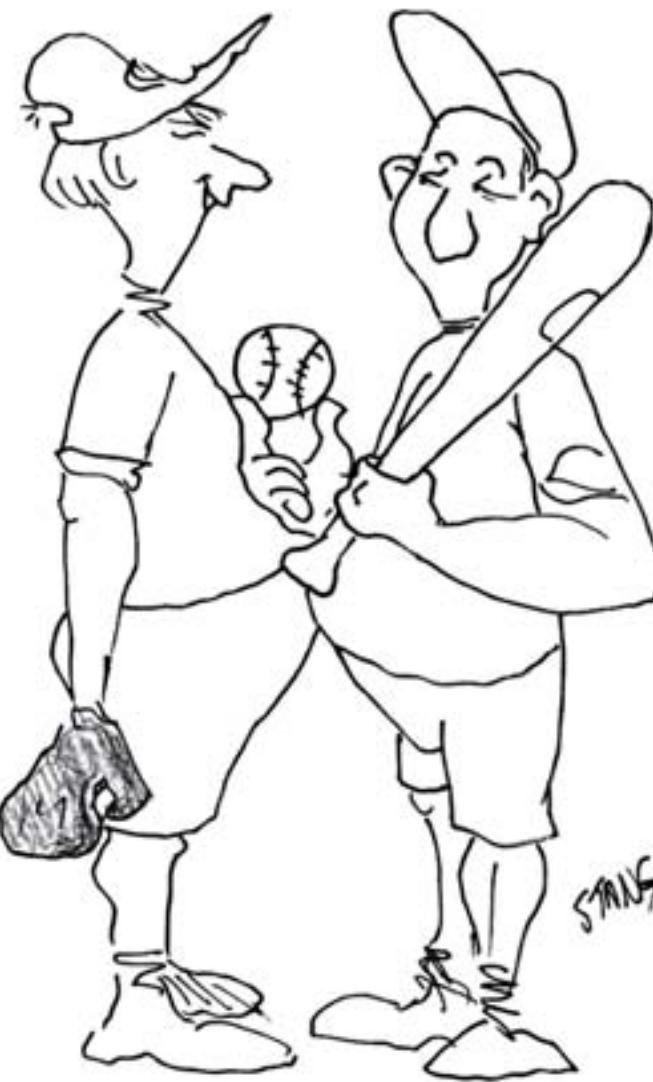

Q. I have four children, one of whom is irresponsible and if, when I pass on, he gets any money at all he will blow it very quickly. What are my options to protect him from himself?

A. There may be several options but here are three of them:

1. You can decide not to worry about what happens and just leave your assets to your four children equally or in any other proportion that you decide. If the irresponsible one chooses to dissipate his portion of the funds quickly, that's his problem. By doing that, you will not be controlling from the grave.

GOLDEN OLDIES HUMOR

The most important of the senses is common.

2. You can leave a portion of your estate to one of your other children to hold in trust for the irresponsible one. If you do that, then you have placed a burden of the child you choose as trustee, but at least you will have a family member who can use the funds as you direct for the benefit of the irresponsible.
3. You can set up your will so that the person you name as personal representative can take a portion of your estate and purchase an annuity for the irresponsible child. The annuity can recite how the funds in it are to be paid out. You would not purchase the annuity while you are alive since it is only to be purchased from your estate after you have passed on.

You did not ask for my recommendation as to which option to choose but I am on a roll here, so here goes: I think that folks often "over think" what they should do with a child who they love but who has made bad choices throughout his or her life and will probably continue to do so. Sometimes, perhaps it is best that we do all we can to guide such a child from himself or herself, while we are alive. However, when we are no longer here, maybe it's time to let that child succeed or not succeed on his own or her own. I am reminded from the quote allegedly from Casey Stengel, "It is easier to grow old than to grow up." True. Yet, sometimes, maybe, we need to let our children grow up, whether they want to or they don't.

4. If I buy a new home from a developer

oper, why do I need title insurance?

A. I keep getting this question and I don't know why. It is my opinion that everyone who buys real estate, whether it is for a new home or a resale, should have, I think must have a title insurance policy. It protects you from claims, liens, forgeries, falsely filed deeds, or any form of encumbrance that can call into question the marketability of your title. The cost is not all that significant in relation to the overall purchase price of any property.

If you think that if there is some encumbrance, you can go against the developer or the seller of the property that is to a real extent, illusory. To do that, you would need to retain your own attorney and then have litigation that could take a long time. However, if you have title insurance, you just turn over the matter to the title insurance company and they are required to handle everything, including payment of attorney fees and costs. In most resale situations, the seller pays for the title insurance; but in new sales, typically the builder does not. In either case, I think that anyone who buys real estate should have title insurance.

All Around Our World

By Lynette Vermillion

There is so much going on this month ... families gather for Thanksgiving festivities, food and fun, college football season is nearing an end, and preparations for the December holiday season begin. It is a season of togetherness, and I look forward to spending time with my family and friends. I wish everyone a happy and safe Thanksgiving.

Daylight Saving Time

Don't forget to set your clocks - Sunday, Nov. 3, - back one hour at 2 a.m. local time, which becomes 1 a.m. local time. Many people also use this as a reminder to check and replace the batteries in their smoke and carbon monoxide (CO) detectors. You should also consider replacing any smoke detectors older than ten years and any CO detectors older than five years.

Customer Service Holiday Schedule

Please note that the Customer Service office is closed the third Wednesday of every month from noon to 1 p.m., which falls on Nov. 20 this month. Customer Service may be reached by phone: 236-OTOW (6869); e-mail: otowservice@otowfl.com; or in person by visiting Suite 200, in Friendship Commons.

Please also note the Customer Service office holiday schedule:

- Wednesday, Nov. 27, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.;
- Thursday, Nov. 28 (Thanksgiving), closed;
- Friday, Nov. 29, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Community Clean-up Day

The community cleanup day for On Top of the World Central is fast approaching. The event is planned for Wednesday, Nov. 6. On this day, residents are asked to participate by making sure their property is in good order and in compliance with the rules. The Community Rules and Standards may be viewed online at www.otowinfo.com. Once you choose your community, click on Rules and Community Standards at the bottom left side.

Our goal is to have residents who have installed items or made changes to the exterior of their home without modification to take this time to voluntarily bring their home into compliance with the current Second Amended and Restated Rules and Regulations. This means that if you have installed a satellite dish, excess lawn ornaments, a flag pole, or landscaping, etc. and haven't received prior approval from the Architectural Review Board (ARB), you would either need to remove the items or apply for a modification to have them approved.

Staff will be on hand to help any residents who are physically unable to trim owner landscape or with removal of items not in compliance. Lawn furnishings may be disposed of in any compactor, or any open top dumpster suitable for such items, located within the community. We will also have an area set up that day to dispose of household furniture, not including appliances. Vendors, Enviro-Shred and Reletrocycle, will be set up in the Health & Recreation parking lot from 10 a.m. to noon. Interfaith Emergency Services will be set up to take clothing and household donations as well.

We thank everyone for their willingness to participate and are looking forward to a successful event.

Candler and Indigo East Yard Debris Pick-up

Please note that yard debris pick-up will occur on Tuesday, Nov. 5 instead of Nov. 6. We appreciate your understanding.

Golf Cart Registration

This is just a reminder that golf cart permitting for 2014-2015 started in October at Customer Service. Over 600 carts were permitted in October, which leaves quite a number to be permitted. If you were unable to make it to your assigned day in October, registration is now open to all in November and December. All golf carts in the community must have the new decal for 2014-2015 by the end of the year.

The Customer Service office will also be open for golf cart registration on Saturday, Nov. 9, between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon to accommodate any of the residents who work and are unable to make it during normal business hours. Any resident needing special accommodation may call Customer Service at 266-OTOW (6869) or email otowservice@otowfl.com.

Residents are asked to bring proof of insurance ($100,000/$300,000 bodily injury), golf cart and handicap placard or registration (if applicable). All residents in the household will need to be present at the time of registration to sign a release prior to receiving a permit to operate the cart within the community.

Those residents desiring a handicap sticker for the cart will be required to comply with Section 320.0848, Florida Statutes. You may refer to the following website for more information or drop by Customer Service for a copy of the information: http://www.flhsmv.gov/dmv/disabled_pkgs.html. Golf cart handicap stickers are only valid within the community.

For more information on golf cart registration, please stop by Customer Service located in Friendship Commons or call 236-OTOW (6869). Cart rules will be provided to each cart owner when the cart is registered.

Holiday Lighting

With the holiday quickly approaching, I wanted to take a moment to remind everyone that holiday lighting and decorations are permitted so long as the lights and decorations do not constitute a nuisance. Colored bulbs in low-voltage light fixtures and building-mounted fixtures are not allowed. Rope and tube lighting are only allowed during the holiday season. Lights and decorations may be added no earlier than the second weekend in November and need to be removed by Jan. 15, 2014.

On Top of the World Central Re-Roofing Schedule

The following is a list of roof replacements that are scheduled within the next 90 days: A11, A19, A22, C02, D08, D22, H03, H25 2922, 2932, 2936, 2938, 5024, 5026, 5076, 5078, 5080. Due to unforeseen weather conditions, we are unable to provide exact dates of replacements.

Water Conservation Expo

If you did not attend, you missed a great expo. Bay Laurel Center CDD (BLCCD) hosted their annual Water Conservation Expo on Tuesday, Oct. 15. Topics included water conservation rates, irrigation and landscaping, and ways to conserve in the home. Many exhibitors gave away conservation products as well.

Walking, Biking, Jogging in the Dark

We want all of our residents to be safe while out walking, biking, or jogging in the community after dusk and before dawn. It is important to be as mindful of the cart path as the roadway. One of our resident couples brought to my attention a vest which they purchased from Northern Tool + Equipment. It is a two-tone safety vest that is very effective, and when lights hit it, looks like an "H".

We also want your dog(s) to be safe as well, and another couple was kind enough to point out that PetSmart sells LED collars and leashes made by Dog-e-Glow. You can find out more information on the canine products available either on the PetSmart website or at www.dogeglow.com.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Keeping It Green

By Phillip B. Hisey

My experience with St. Augustine grass is that most lawn issues are preventable with proper cultural practices. The more knowledgeable we are about St. Augustine grass, the better equipped we are at handling even problematic insects such as chinch bugs. Some of our residents hire landscaping contractors who only "mow, blow and go." These contractors either have no knowledge of the needs of St. Augustine grass or choose to ignore the needs because it is not part of the scope of work.

Chinch bugs are probably the largest damaging insect pest of St. Augustine grass. While they are not preventable, they are controllable. A contractor or homeowner should be able to see damage occurring before it is too late. Often if the damage is caught early enough and the insects are treated, very minimal damage is created and the insect is controlled. Ways in which to control chinch bug damage is to ensure proper irrigation and fertilization. Chinch bugs are opportunistic insects. They seek out weakened or stressed grass due to lack of irrigation as well as grass that has been over-fertilized and succulent.

Another problem I have observed in the Candler Hills and Indigo East communities is the fungus that all grasses are susceptible to. Fungus is preventable. There are two times of year when fungal problems arise and require treatment; they are during the spring and fall months when the evening temperatures are lower and daytime temperatures and humidity are higher.

This last winter, the cold temperatures were extremely tough on the St. Augustine and other grasses. As a result, the roots of the grass were damaged or killed. When the grass came out of dormancy in the spring, the fungus was already there taking advantage of the weakened state of the grass. Bear in mind, there is always a level of fungus in the environment (whether in the ground or airborne).

Maintaining healthy St. Augustine grass consists of understanding the various conditions it is most susceptible to and applying preventative treatments when necessary.

Mowing height is something to consider for St. Augustine grass as well. Too low and the grass may be depleted of important nutrients and it may not recuperate from the last mowing. This leaves grass weak and susceptible. Too high of mower height may cause the grass to harbor too much organic matter creating a large thatch layer. When thatch becomes an issue, the grass roots lose contact with the soil surface and the weaker the roots become, the more susceptible to disease and insects.

I mentioned proper fertilization earlier. All contractors applying fertilizer for hire now must obtain the licensing to do so. MCBCC (Marion County Board of County Commissioners) enacted the Fertilizer Ordinance 08-35, May 4, 2009. This ordinance explains the application rates and mandates that vendors applying fertilizer must be certified by the Florida Green Industry Best Management Practices (GI-BMPs) for the Protection of Water Resources (GI-BMPs). As of January 1, 2014, all persons fertilizing "for hire" must be certified by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (FDACS). This is an individual certificate so all persons fertilizing must have the GI-BMP certification as well as the FDACS certification.

Good luck in the next few months. The weather forecasters claim the upcoming winter is going to be a cold one. If I had to guess, they are probably right this time.

Food For Thought

By Sandy Curtis

Can you believe we are already into November? Where does the time go? Let's get ready for the great holidays approaching, beautiful weather and family and friends to share it all with.

Veterans Day holds many memories for all of us. It's a time of remembrance of what took place so many years ago. Let us never forget that our freedom was paid with a price. We honor each of those who served and their families. In return, we would like to honor you on this day, by offering all veterans and a guest, a 10% discount at both Candler Hills Restaurant and The Pub. For that reason, Nov. 11, 1918, is generally regarded as the end of "the war to end all wars."

We would like to introduce to you, Executive Chef Bud. He comes to us with many years of culinary experience, wonderful menu ideas and themed dinner events within the restaurant. He received his Culinary Arts/Restaurant Management Certificate from Schoolcraft College, Livonia, Mich. He is currently preparing a new menu and working to bring you lunch specials that you will enjoy on a daily basis. I'm sure you will be pleased. Stop by the Candler Hills Restaurant, at your convenience, and introduce yourself.

Girls Night Out is an evening you don't want to miss. Enjoy time spent with friends, make new friends and have fun. All this takes place, Tuesday, Nov. 19, from 7 to 9 p.m. Enjoy two drinks from the bar, appetizers and a fun time for all.

It is this month, which we experience some of the best food, drinks and desserts around. Just the smell of turkey and dressing cooking makes us long for the holiday we enjoy. Thanksgiving day is a very important day in the U.S. There are many things that are especially related to the celebrations of Thanksgiving. These include family dinner, pilgrims and big hats, Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and watching football.

Listed are some facts that I discovered about this day. We always celebrate Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday in November in the U.S., whereas Canada celebrates it on the second Monday in October. The very first celebration took place at Plymouth, Mass. The Puritans brought over in the Mayflower with them a beverage. Can you guess what it was? It was beer.

With all that being said, we hope you will join us on Thanksgiving at Candler Hills Restaurant for a feast. We will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. In order to guarantee you a seat, you will need a reservation. Please call us today at 861-9720. And yes, we will continue on with the tradition and serve up some beer as well.

If you haven't booked your holiday event, don't wait, the holidays will be here before you know it and our calendars are filling up fast. Call Jenene Baxley with Friendship Catering. Her number is 861-9188. She will be able to help you plan your event in a timely and professional manner.

Have a wonderful month, until next time ...

COMMUNITY NEWS & UPDATE

December begins a cycle of annual meetings for the various neighborhood owner associations. This is the schedule and location for the respective meetings:

- Master Association Meeting & Budget Adoption: Wednesday, Dec. 4, Live Oak Hall (9 a.m.).
- Indigo East Meeting & Budget Adoption: Friday, Dec. 6, Circle Square Cultural Center (9 a.m.).
- Candler Hills Meeting & Budget Adoption: Friday, Dec. 6, Circle Square Cultural Center (2 p.m.).
- On Top of the World (Central) Owners Annual Meeting: Wednesday, Dec. 18, Circle Square Cultural Center (9 a.m.).

October and November are the months your board begins to consider budgeting for the coming fiscal cycles. Once again, your board is considering operational costs for the coming year. Last year, costs were held to a very minimal increase. At this juncture, I cannot say how the budgets will be impacted, but we are challenged with rising costs, especially reroofing (in On Top of the World (Central)) and paving. We are considering all opportunities for savings that can be reasonably made without jeopardizing delivery of services.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Indigo East

By Jean DiPiero

"Willkommen" to the Indigo East Oktoberfest which was held on Sunday, Oct. 13. What a great turnout! Thank you to the hard working neighbors who put the Oktoberfest together.

The Indigo East Community Center was filled with laughter, good food and great music. Eve Gillespie talked about the history of Oktoberfest. It was started some 200 years ago in Germany and continues today. In 1835, a parade became part of the regular festivities and now approximately 8,000 people in costumes walk through Munich to the Oktoberfest site. In 1950, a 12-gun salute signaled the tapping of the first beer keg by the mayor of Munich and today seven million liters of beer are consumed. I don't think we drank that much!

Eve Gillespie said the prayer before dinner. The menu consisted of sauerkraut, pork roast, spaetzle, red cabbage, bratwurst, applesauce, German potato salad and bread. This was all served family style.

After savoring the delicious food, the next stop was the dessert table. The desserts were a feast for everyone's eyes. It consisted of German chocolate cake (with a frosting to die for), cherry cobbler, apple cobbler, pumpkin pie and cookies. "Wunderbar!"

After eating it was time to dance. The Ocala Accordion Club provided the music. Dick Richards played the accordion along with Bill Cayhill on the drums. Dick Richards has played the accordion since he was a young man. Some of our neighbors really know how to cut a rug. Everyone enjoyed the music including the chicken dance.

There was a 50/50 raffle and Chrysanthemums, which were the centerpiece on all the tables, were given away as well along with other special prizes.

Once again, thanks to all the neighbors who put Oktoberfest together and made it such an outstanding event. Committee members were Eve and Bob Gillespie, Joyce and Jon Gysen, Helga Schultze, Helen and Terry Solan, Marybeth Barnes, Paul and Dick Lord (and their dog Abby), Charlie and Betty Chadwell, Nancy Dickerson, Barbara Fleck, Barbara and Larry Kratz, Barbara Martyn, Marta and Pete DiSoto, Sue Siegel, Harold and Kathy Brouillard, Mary Lou Masone and Mary Walters.

Women of the World

By Patricia Betts

It was so good to see everyone at our Friday, Oct. 4, meeting. What a tremendous turnout we had and so many of you brought goodies! My sweet tooth thanks you, my hips – not so much.

I am so proud to be part of our organization! Your generosity is amazing. If you don't believe me, ask Scott Wheeler. He's the Assistant Principal at Romeo Elementary. He was loading your donations onto the truck and he got quite a workout, along with all of the people who helped sort and pack the candy.

I'm not the only one with a sweet tooth; our President Carol Emrick has a penchant for all things sweet, she also is wild about WOW and lets not forget the fire fighters just outside our gate. Carol reminded us how well-known Women of the World is throughout our community but more importantly what an impact we have on so many lives.

Our speakers for the meeting were Caroline Ruhe and Frank Russo from Tutors for Kids. They expressed their thanks for our efforts in the past and to those of us who are new to WOW explained the demographics of our county and the incredible need so many children have for food and safety before they are able to begin the learning process. Volunteers are always needed and time requirements are flexible. If you would like to help, let one of the officers know and we can get the information you need.

Our next meeting will be on Friday, Nov. 1, and our guest speaker will be Melissa from Metro Crime Prevention. This is sure to be a meeting we can all use and be sure to bring a friend or neighbor. Information is our best defense against crime. Domestic violence and abused women is the charity. Everything from paper products and cleaning supplies to diapers and baby food are needed, as well as canned goods, formula, health products and baby bottles.

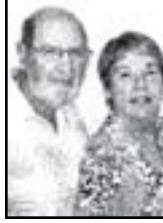

Just a reminder, both the January and February meetings will be the second Friday of the month. Please feel free to bring goodies.

Our refreshment committee works very hard, so bring your sweet tooth, I promise I'll save you some!

Sidekicks Western Dance Club

Ballet Club

By Eugenie Martin

The Sidekicks started off the new dance year by hosting 14 new couples to our newcomer class on Tuesday, Oct. 1. Some folks have some line dance or other dance experience; some are dancing for the first time. We welcome them all and hope they stay with us and have a wonderful time learning dances and socializing with our current members.

On Thursday, Oct. 3, 12 Sidekicks couples responded to an invitation from the Southern Club to perform for their members. We did four dances and were requested to do an encore. Of course, we obliged, and finished our program by dancing to a rousing rendition of "Dixie" which brought folks to their feet. The Sidekicks had a wonderful time and thank the Southern Club for their warm welcome.

Tuesday, Oct. 8 saw the start of our new dance year for all members, which brought our beginners and veteran dancers together. Seventy-five people took to the dance floor for our first night. Each level learned a new dance and our newcomers are already working on their third. We're on our way to a great dance year.

Please visit us at <http://patterndancers.wix.com/sidekicks> or on YouTube at ro67ger. Happy trails ...

I truly believe that we are a "group" rather than "club." We are a support group for each other. The dancing and beautiful music in classes gives us respite from the outside world, including its problems. Even if we can't always dance "full out," the beauty of the class can still transport us. As I have said before, ballet feeds our bodies, minds and spirits. I do not know what I would do without it, and I know the other dancers feel the same way.

Our classes, which are free, are taught four times each week by my co-teacher, Julie Sines, and myself. They are scheduled Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 2:15 p.m.; Mondays from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m.; and Saturdays from 9 to 10:15 a.m.

Newcomers are always welcome and previous experience is not necessary. In addition, you do not need ballet clothes to start, but can wait to get them when you become sure that ballet is for you. To start, all you need are some exercise clothes, socks and a bottle of water. We get thirsty in class.

If you want to join our ballet class, it is a good idea to call in advance. That way, we can explain a bit about how the class works, and be expecting you in class. For any questions about our classes or club, please feel free to call me at 854-8589. Happy dancing!

Square Dancing

By Walter Lamp

On Monday, Sept. 10, we were fortunate to have some nice people stand in and do the calling and cueing for our regulars, who were out of town on business: Steve Keller, who lives right here in Ocala and has been calling for about 40 years, and Irene Smith, who took over the cueing duties. This is a tradition in square dancing. There is always someone ready to help out to keep the dancers dancing.

On Tuesday, Oct. 1, we held our annual Free Fun Dance. It's our one night where we get to introduce new residents to the fun and joy of square dancing. Besides the laughter and friendships, the physical benefits are an important consideration.

I counted about 28 people, mostly couples, who came down to see if square dancing might be for them. Our caller, Don Hanhurst, just taught some basic calls. Mixed in with regular club members, these new folks seemed to enjoy what they were doing. We also had one dance, with just the regular club members, to show these new folks what the future might hold in store for them. Either way, it truly was a fun night, not just for the new folks, but us club members as well.

The beginner's class started on Wednesday, Oct. 9. I'll keep you informed on the progress of the new class and future square dances.

On Monday, Oct. 14, we visited our neighbors and friends over at the Ocala Twirlers to retrieve our club banner and to dance and renew our close friendships. Walter and Janet Becker have volunteered to coordinate all future visits for the upcoming season.

On Saturday, Oct. 19, we had our first special dance of the new season. It was our Fall Ball, with special guest caller Jerry Biggerstaff. It was held in the Health & Recreation Ballroom. Fall was truly in the air, with seasonal decorations, door prizes and beautiful weather. And, don't forget, those fall snacks to keep us going.

On Tuesday, Nov. 5, we will have our now annual Happy Acres hoedown. It will include a hayride, a small barbecue dinner and, of course, some square dancing. We look forward each year to going back to the Happy Acres Farm.

On Tuesday, Nov. 26, we are having our season Thanksgiving feast and dance. There will be more details about the feast next month. But, let me say now that after eating, I feel more like taking a nap than square dancing.

Ballroom Dance Club

By Richard P. Vullo

The beautiful fall weather in Ocala not only induces our seasonal residents to return but also signals the step up of activity in the ballroom dance community. The Dancin' On the Top committee of the Ballroom Dance Club will hold its second dance of the season on Saturday, Nov. 16 in the Health & Recreation Ballroom. It will be our annual "Harvest Dance" with music provided by Karen Hall.

On Tuesday, Dec. 31, we will hold our popular New Year's Eve celebration with Automatic. Our remaining schedule includes our special Valentine's Day Dance on Saturday, Feb. 15, 2014 with Karen Hall and our "Spring Dance" on Saturday, April 19, 2014 with Automatic.

For more information about attending our dances, please call Gene Melnick at 304-8293.

We're going into our third month of ballroom dance lessons with Trish Sands at the Ocala Health Senior Health & Wellness Center, next to Customer Service outside the main gate. For November, the dance style will be waltz. For more information, please call Dick Vullo at 854-6772 or Trish Sands at 216-1657.

There are many local venues that provide dancing opportunities throughout the year. For more information about dance lessons and dance venues, please check the website for USA Dance at www.usadanceocala.com.

If you're interested in committing to a monthly ballroom dance event, consider the Ocala Dance Club. It is a not-for-profit social ballroom dance club for couples who enjoy a classy atmosphere in a private club setting. Organized in 1951, it is the oldest social ballroom dance club in Florida. The dances are held the second Tuesday of each month from 7 to 10 p.m., September through May, at St. Mark's Methodist Church on NE 8th Avenue in Ocala. For more information visit www.ocaladanceclub.com or email ocaladanceclub@gmail.com.

On Friday, Nov. 15, Happy Hour will be held in the Health & Recreation Ballroom instead of the Arbor Club Ballroom. This will give everyone the opportunity to dance and socialize with their friends in a much larger facility, with a better sound system for listening and dancing. Let's continue supporting these dances at the Health & Recreation Ballroom.

Ferguson. They had a good display and a great selection of videos on their computer of the dances we are doing in their class. A lot of people came by the booth and signed up for dance class. I think it was a great success.

I hope by this writing that those who want to dance have sorted out which class to join. Newcomers or beginner with Marilyn McNeal, level two with Janice and Bob, or improver plus with Marilyn or intermediate with Nancy Carmack. Newcomers need no dance experience, beginner needs a little experience, level two and improver plus need quite a bit and intermediate even more.

Line dance classes started Monday, Sept. 9. We have been dancing for eight weeks and have learned several new dances. Some of the new dances are Ira Weisburd's new flash dance Summer Celebration, Rockin' The Wagon Wheel by Jamie Marshall and September In The Rain by Karen Tripp danced to music with the same name by Rod Stewart.

We are updating the playlist for our second Wednesday night of the month dance and as we learn new dances will be updating the playlist for The Town Square. Our second Wednesday of the month dance at 6 p.m. has turned out to be a great success; see you there.

We are dancing at Happy Hour every Friday, The Town Square every Friday and Saturday and the second Wednesday night of the month at the Arbor Club Ballroom. Come join us; just stay in line and step when the drum goes thump.

For detailed information, please contact Marilyn McNeal (newcomer, beginner and improver plus) at 804-1546; Nancy Carmack (intermediate) at 533-8870; Janice Meade (level two) at 861-9345; or Bob Ferguson (level two) at 873-4478.

Concert Chorus

By Pat Woodbury

Breathing efficiently when you sing is a combination of great posture and skillful inhaling and exhaling. Good posture is important as it allows you to get a deep, full breath. If you slouch or you are too rigid, your diaphragm locks and prevents you from getting a correct breath for singing. If your breathing and your posture work together as a team, you can improve your singing.

Your own two hands can help you to maintain great posture while breathing. As you work through breathing, place one hand on your chest and other hand on your abdomen. As you inhale, feel the abdomen enlarge, while your chest stays in the same position. As you exhale feel the abdomen retract in toward your body.

It is surprising to find that some singers actually are so engrossed with their singing that they may momentarily forget to breathe, especially at crucial points of the song. This results in the singer not having enough air to practice good breath control for the long or crucial phrases, and feeling out of breath when singing. To sing your best, you want to develop a good posture while you breathe. When the body is aligned correctly, taking and using an efficient breath is easier.

Do not forget our Christmas concert scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 8, at 3 p.m. in the Health & Recreation Ballroom. Mark your calendar for this date as we have lots of new music to perform for you and share the joy of the season with you through music.

Our featured chorus member this month is Suzanne Womack. Suzanne was born in a small farmhouse in Illinois. She went to college focusing on accounting, banking and European history. She worked in the field of finance for various banks, savings and loan and insurance companies. She moved to Florida in 1968 and in 2004 moved to On Top of the World. Suzanne has had a very broad experience as a singer. She sang in high school, many church choirs and with a singing sorority in Indiana. She was part of a 1992 singing tour in the United Kingdom, where she sang in England, Scotland and Wales. Her musical talents are quite versatile as she plays percussion instruments, keyboard, violin, accordion and ukulele. Suzanne has contributed these talents in our concert performances and offers a terrific soprano voice to the chorus and in her solo performances.

plot is in three acts and is full of delightful music with not really a serious moment in the two and half hours.

We'll close the year with one of the most popular operas in the repertory, "Carmen" by Bizet, starring Plácido Domingo as Don José and Julia Mégille as Carmen, and a really sexy one at that. As Escamillo, the torero, we have Ruggero Raimondi who will steal the heart of Carmen from Don José. The Orchestra National of France is conducted by Loren Maazel. The production is the movie of 1984 with Domingo at his peak. It is definitely a fitting way to end our season.

The season begins on Thursday, Dec. 5, and continues through the first Thursday of April 2014. I look forward to seeing all of our regulars, but we would like to have a lot of other music lovers give us a try. I'll see you all in December.

Opera

By Bernie Kelly

I'm back to introduce the operas we will study in the Opera Appreciation Class this year. We will still meet on the first Thursday of the month beginning in December and ending in April in Meeting Room 3 in the Craft Building. We watch our operas on a 50-inch set donated to the Opera Class by Aaron Hertz, which gives us an experience close to being at the live performance.

This is my sixth year as the moderator and we start as usual with Puccini. This year, it will be "Manon Lescaut," which was produced in 1893 and made a top opera composer of Puccini. Actually, Massenet had already done this plot successfully in 1884, but Puccini was confident that he could do it differently with an Italian slant. We are going to see a performance from The Met in 2008 with James Levine conducting. We have a first rate cast with Karita Mattila singing Manon and Marcello Giordani as her lover, des Grieux. Dwayne Croft is Lescaut who is Manon's brother and Dale Travis sings the role of Geronte who is a rich old man who would like to replace Des Grieux.

Our second opera is usually from Rossini. This year, it is a late opus and not well known, "Le Comte Ory." Juan Diego and Joyce DiDonato are joined by Diana Damrau whom we have recently heard in Rigoletto. This is very late Rossini - only a year before his last opera, "William Tell," in 1829. We have the premiere performance of this opera at The Met in 2011. It is a comedy whose plot concerns the romantic exploits of the count who is one of the few young men left in this medieval town while most of the other men are off fighting in the crusades. Maurizio Benini conducts this opera.

Our Verdi opera this year will be "Il Trovatore" from Verdi's middle years. We are going to see another production of The Met from 2011 with an extraordinary cast led by Dmitri Hvorostovsky as the count, Marcello Alvarez as the Il Trovatore and Sondra Radvanovsky who is loved by both men. Actually they are brothers and only the gypsy, Azucena, sung by Dolora Zajick knows it. Marco Armiliato conducts this opera.

Mozart is the composer of our fourth opera, "The Abduction from the Seraglio." Mozart was commissioned by Emperor Joseph II in 1781 to celebrate the visit of the Russian Grand Duke Paul Petrovich. The luncheon was completely filled on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

Congratulations to our own Shizuka Campagna for being awarded "most outstanding math teacher" of the entire country. Yeah!

Be on the lookout for information from Annette Krueger in charge of our November activity. She has something very special planned.

A volunteer to arrange our December holiday luncheon is needed.

Our next LadyBird meeting is Friday, Nov. 8, at 9 a.m., at the Arbor Conference Center, Suites B and C.

Potential members are always welcome. Come see what we are all about. Looking forward to seeing all of you.

LadyBirds

By Caren Kowalsky

Welcome back to all of our returning LadyBirds. Hope you had a wonderful summer. Welcome to our new member Gail Harper.

Hedy Schamal provided delicious refreshments for our first meeting on Friday, Sept. 12. She also hosted our annual fall potluck on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Thanks to Diane Asner, our Wednesday, Sept. 25 luncheon at the Ivy House was lovely.

Saturday, Oct. 5 was a great day for the R/C Fly-In with a beautiful clear sky, offering a great view of all the wonderful aircraft soaring overhead. The 50/50 pay out of $311 was won by one of our lucky residents. We look forward to seeing all of our residents, friends, and visitors at the next fly-in in March 2014.

A big thank you to all of the ladies who always volunteer and work so hard to make every R/C Fly-In a huge success. You all rock! It would be wonderful to see more of our members joining us for a day of fun in the sun in March.

ShutterBugs Photography

By Gary Uhley

Choosing Basic Camera Settings

The following information was adapted from Carol Kropscot, APSA, from the Just for Beginners series in the Photographic Society of America Journal. How does the beginning photographer decide which camera settings to learn about and use first? How to decide which settings are appropriate for the desired image?

Setting the ISO first is basic. This sets the camera's sensitivity to light and helps make good exposures in all lighting situations. The usual default setting is 100. Higher numbers are used in darker situations. Lower numbers are used in very bright light.

The photographer chooses the ISO, and the camera chooses the aperture and shutter speed that will, all together, produce the best exposure.

The main reason to change the ISO is when the photographer is not happy with the camera's choice for the combination of shutter speed and aperture. This situation occurs most often when the light is too bright or too dark.

Now, the beginning photographer can try the camera's various modes. The auto or program modes are good for beginners, because they produce a well-exposed image. So do the other automatic modes, such as portrait, landscape, action, or close-up. These automated exposures are fine as long as the photographer does not want to control the exact shutter speed or aperture.

There are two modes, which allow the photographer to choose the exact shutter speed or aperture. The camera will then choose the other setting to make the best exposure. Using shutter speed priority mode allows the exact choice of shutter speed so that a moving subject can be captured either blurry or sharp.

Using aperture priority mode allows the exact choice of aperture to create blurrier backgrounds or sharpness throughout. The desired look for the image determines whether to use an automatic or priority mode.

In manual mode, the photographer chooses both aperture and shutter speed. This often results in under- or overexposure. Manual mode is not generally for beginners. It is helpful for beginners when taking panoramas in multiple shots. If each section is shot with the exact same settings, the combined sections will produce the best-finished panorama. Improve your photography with the Photographic Society of America at www.psa-photo.org.

Check our web site at www.otowspc.com for meeting times. Usually we meet three Tuesdays a month at 3 p.m. in Suites B and C at the Arbor Conference Center.

Club elections are rapidly approaching. Do you have a skill that will benefit our club? Come join us.

The Entertainment Group Presents a Tribute to Liberace

The On Top of the World Entertainment Group is proud to present Martin Preston as he pays tribute to Liberace on Saturday, Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. in the Health & Recre-

Genealogical Society

By Peter Parisi

The Club Fair was held at the Health & Recreation Building on Thursday, Sept. 26. It was a great success. Approximately 34 people showed a lot of interest in coming to our Genealogical Society meetings to explore what we do and what resources we have to help them in their quest to further their development of their family tree.

We would like to thank Jean Monroe for organizing our participation in the event and Patti Kirshner, Embury Jones, Cathy McKelvey and Kathy Niebo for representing the Genealogical Society at the Club Fair.

One note of interest to genealogists is that Ancestry.com has come out with a new Family Tree Maker program for 2014. This new update includes a new Family View, especially when you want to see extended family members. Also, an improved Tree-Sync to your online Ancestry.com tree allows family and friends to view the online version of your tree without software or a subscription. Further, there are more organizational tools, new and improved charts and reports, new tree branch export making it simpler to export a single branch of your tree, and more editing options that save time with the ability to copy and paste facts including related source citations, media items, and notes.

At our presentation on Monday, Oct. 21, Ron Chard reviewed some of these new improvements to the Family Tree Maker 2014 program.

The society will be holding election of officers for 2014 at the business meeting on Monday, Dec. 9.

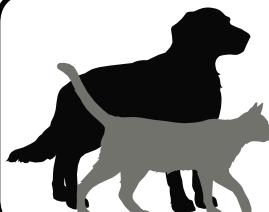

The Genealogical Society holds a business meeting at 10 a.m. the second Monday of every month in Meeting Room 3 of the Craft Building. This meeting is for all members and people who may be interested in joining our society. At the business meeting, we discuss upcoming genealogy programs, new books added to the society's extensive genealogical library and methods of researching your family's roots and more. All of the books and CDs in our extensive collection are available to members to be signed out and used at home for their research.

We also have an educational presentation at 10 a.m. the third Monday of the month in Suites B and C in the Arbor Conference Center. We hope to see you at one of our meetings. Remember, our annual dues are only $10 per person or $15 per couple, so come to one of our meetings and see what we are all about.

Favorite Recipes Dinner Club

By Luke Mullen

September was the last month of our self-imposed summer suspension of our regularly scheduled dinners.

One of the activities for our club in September was our participation in the annual Club Fair that was held on Thursday, Sept. 26. We had the pleasure of meeting many new residents, with many taking a copy of our club guidelines. Also, all who made inquiries were invited to attend our October cookout.

Many who stopped by our table had similar questions. One of the most common questions was what happens if I want to join the club. If you contact me, I will answer all of your basic questions over the phone and if necessary I would be happy to set up an appointment to meet with you to go over the club's guidelines.

This month, I recently had the pleasure of repeating one of our favorite recipes. This has been a favorite for many years beginning in New Hampshire. We modified an original Mexican recipe to incorporate boneless skinless chicken breasts with salsa sauce.

Chicken with Salsa Sauce

Serves 4

2 cups Italian breadcrumbs

$\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoons each of oregano, basil and garlic

2 pounds of boneless skinless chicken breasts (cut into eight pieces)

2 eggs, lightly beaten

Oil for frying

1 (16 ounce) jar of chunky salsa sauce (we use the mild version, but it also is available in medium and hot!)

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup of grated Parmesan cheese

Combine breadcrumbs, oregano, basil and garlic salt. Dip chicken breasts in eggs. Coat egg-covered breasts with seasoned crumbs; quickly sauté in skillet in oil until golden brown on both sides. Place chicken breasts in a shallow baking pan. Pour salsa over breasts and top with cheese. Bake in pre-heated oven (350°) for 15 to 20 minutes, or until heated through. Do not over-cook.

Our club is currently looking for new members. If you are a couple who enjoys preparing and cooking food for others and enjoys entertaining people at your home, you might consider joining our club. Please call Luke at 304-8104 for more information.

Medal holder John competed in the National Senior Games.

Senior Olympian

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

There is a resident living among us who is a sports champion at age 86 competing in county, state, and national championships.

John Ford has been competing in senior games within our county and state along with national senior games for the past 15 years. John has so many medals to his credit that when asked how many medals he has he can't give a specific figure. "I guess I have somewhere around 200," he replied.

Medal holder John competed in the National Senior Games this year at Warner Robbins, Ga. winning eight gold medals in cycling and track and field. Gold medals in the cycling 5K, 10K and 20K along with gold in tennis, shot put, discus and the 5K walk.

John has to qualify at the county and state levels before competing in the national games. At nationals John added, "There are qualifiers from just about every state along with some from out of the country. The games are open to everyone, but you must qualify first."

The senior games John has competed in have been held in Virginia, Kentucky, and Georgia. A competitor can only register for two categories. John likes cycling and track and field. In tennis, John has to rely on his teammate.

John trains his cycling here in our community pedaling some 30 miles a week. He registers in the age group of 85 to 89. "You have to compete even though there are no other competitors to show you can finish winning a medal," John stated. "There are approximately 55 events at the games."

His significant other, Helen, stated, "I should receive a gold medal for repairing John's wounds."

John loves to meet people and has many friends who compete in all the events, especially his competitors. He said, "There are competitors in cycling that are backed by organizations and bike companies. Some have fantastic, expensive bikes with their own mechanics." John chuckled when he stated that he gets his bikes at garage sales.

This year, John did not qualify in the long jump at the state meet missing by just a half-inch.

John said he is as fit-as-a-fiddle. He practices all the time for upcoming events whether in cycling or track and field. For those who know John and those who don't, if you should spot him walking around or exercising in the Health & Recreation Fitness Center, make sure you ask him about the National Senior Games (Senior Olympics). You will hear some exciting stories.

SPCA

By Maria Devine

Please join us at our next meeting on Thursday, Nov. 21, at 1 p.m. in the upstairs meeting room at the Bank of the Ozarks. We hope to see everyone there because we have a lot of business to discuss.

We want to thank those who came out to support us at Rags to Riches. Every cup of coffee and doughnut sold, every donation given, means that another animal somewhere is being helped because of your generosity.

Last year, we told you about Bonnie, the wonderful Patriot Service Dog the SPCA sponsored and cared for in the weekend puppy raiser program. We are proud to announce that this beautiful golden retriever recently graduated from the program and went to live with her wounded warrior a few weeks ago. When they first trained together, the soldier's bed was on one side of the room and Bonnie's bed was on the other. During the night Bonnie pulled her bed over to his so that she was right next to her hero when he woke up. Everybody says awww. If you want to help with this program or learn more about it, please call us at 362-0985 and we will give you the details.

Coco

Last month, we gave you more information about Coco and Panda, the tuxedo cats the SPCA is fostering. There have been some calls for them, but people prefer a cat that's not mostly black. This is making it difficult for them to be placed. A couple of their siblings have found homes in On Top of the World and their families are quite pleased with them. If you, or someone you know, is looking for a new feline companion, please check out Coco and Panda first and go see them and give one a chance. The longer they're in foster care, the harder it is to place them. It's also stressful for them, because generally domesticated animals would rather live with their own families who can give them all the attention they need. A black coat has no bearing on temperament and lovability. Please give Arlene a call at 875-9761 to meet them to see which one is right for you.

It is very difficult to provide homes for all the homeless cats out there. Our local shelters, fosters and cat sanctuaries are full to the brim with them. Every time one is adopted, it opens up room for one more. If you can't take in one of Arlene's cats, you can go to the Humane Society and Marion County Animal Center. You will also find adoptable cats and kittens at Petco and PetSmart. You will find volunteers there from Feisty Acres and Sheltering Hands rescue groups that may have an animal that appeals to you. All these kitties will be spayed or neutered, which is the first step in decreasing the overpopulation problem.

Stamp Club

By David Groves

If you have grandchildren, you might be interested in a freebie described below. But first, club activities ...

October was another interesting month for the General Francis Marion Stamp Club, starting with a great presentation of a wide variety of philatelic items – and descriptions – related to the Spanish Civil War. General Francisco Franco won!

Candler Hills resident Tom Weixelmann reported that he and our club treasurer, Joe Rosinski, manned our stamp club table at the Thursday, Sept. 26, Club Fair. Many residents stopped by our table to look at our displays and to ask questions about our club and its activities.

Members also heard an interesting report on our recent Stamp Show by club member Sheldon Rogg, who is also an ex-president of the Florida Stamp Dealers Association. He believes that it will be held in the Circle Square Cultural Center again in 2014.

Bob Schlegel gave members a few hints on buying U.S. stamps from the USPS Fulfillment Center, and Ted Harris gave members some good advice on the care and handling of our postal cover collections.

Freebie – grandparents special: For several years, I have been placing classified ads in philatelic publications, offering free children's packets of 100 U.S. and foreign stamps to anybody who sent me a self-addressed stamped envelope.

moment.

The intricately detailed layout was inspired, created, and constructed by club member, Gary Mowry. Even though Gary was not present, he graciously gave the club permission to use the module for the Club Fair.

The base of the display was a complete Santa's sleigh with runners and front and back pieces that provided the support for the train village. The side of the sleigh even had decorated snowflakes attached to enhance the mood.

The winter scene was delightful with snow-covered hills, trees and buildings. The roads were filled with cars traveling from the station depot to the church on the hill. The trains carrying passengers and freight, pulled by nostalgic steam engines complete with a bell, whistle, and "chuff" sound effects. The nighttime mode brought out the fantastic array of lights emanating from the buildings, boulevard poles, and the engines.

From various viewpoints, the trains disappeared in a mountain tunnel to reappear on the opposite side, and then continue over a figure-eight overpass. Without exception, every person commented upon Gary's attention to even the minutest details on the layout.

The Model Railroaders Club is always looking for new members, and you are welcome to join us. The layout is located in a room with entry from the Health & Recreation fitness center. The club members work on the layout on Tuesdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

Our monthly meetings are held at 9 a.m. on the first Wednesday of every month in Meeting Room #3 of the Craft Building.

Get Fit Weight Loss Challenge Underway

Thirty eager Get Fit Weight Loss Challenge participants showed up in early October to weigh-in and take part in the chance to win big – both pounds and maybe even the cash prize! The weight loss challenge is based on percentage of weight loss, the challenge will run for six weeks and the person who loses the greatest percentage of body weight takes home the prize.

This is an important time of year to remain mindful of healthy lifestyle habits, as autumn rolls into winter we are faced with the endless bounty of holiday food.

Thanksgiving means hefty helpings of hearty food and Christmas means all kinds of sweet treats and endless entertaining. How do we navigate all of these temptations and keep on track with our plan to either lose weight, maintain our weight or more importantly not gain weight?!

One of the things that our weight loss challenge participants are prompted to do early in the program is goal setting. Setting a S.M.A.R.T. goal for yourself will help you stay focused on healthy habits during this time of year. A S.M.A.R.T. goal is specific, measurable, attainable, relevant and time bound.

We know that we will be faced with foods that are high in fat and sugar during this time of the year. The key here is moderation. Perhaps a realistic S.M.A.R.T. goal for the holidays might be something like this:

- SPECIFIC: I am going to maintain my weight during the holidays and not gain.
- MEASURABLE: I will weigh myself weekly to ensure that I am sticking to my goal and keep a detailed nutrition log.
- ATTAINABLE: It is possible to enjoy holiday foods and still not gain weight.
- RELEVANT: Improving and/or maintaining my body composition is vital to my health.
- TIME BOUND: I need to manage my lifestyle closely; while enjoying the holidays for approximately 9 weeks (November through December).

Put this somewhere you will see it every day! Good luck to all of our Get Fit Weight Loss Challenge participants and happy, healthy holidays to all.

Larry's Fit Tips

By Larry Robinson

Surviving the Cold and Flu Season

The weather is turning cooler, which reminds us that cold and flu season is here. There are different thoughts on how we succumb to either a cold or the flu. The most common misconception is that these illnesses are brought on by being outside in cold temperatures or getting caught in a rainstorm, both causing a physical chill in our bodies.

The truth is that cold and rainy weather conditions don't increase our chances of getting a cold. You catch a cold from germs; being physically cold has no bearing on it. There have been plenty of tests to prove this.

Many people are unclear on the difference between a cold and the flu. While they are both respiratory illnesses, different viruses cause them. It can be difficult to tell the cold and the flu apart based on symptoms alone.

In general, the flu is worse than the common cold. While a typical cold might have you down and out for a few days, the flu could leave you feeling ill for days to weeks; symptoms such as: fever, body aches, extreme tiredness and dry cough are more common and intense with the flu.

Avoiding harmful germs and maintaining a healthy immune system is vital to fighting off these illnesses. Follow these five rules to help avoid a cold or flu:

1. Eat a healthy diet;
2. Exercise;
3. Get plenty of rest;
4. Reduce your stress;
5. Wash your hands frequently.

Nutrient dense foods: fruits, vegetables, whole grains, lean meats and essential fatty acids are one of the best defenses in building your immune system strong. They provide the antioxidants and phytonutrients to support our germ fighting defense system. Exercise also has the capacity to protect and enhance the immune response. Experimental studies have shown that a regular exercise program of brisk walking can bolster many defenses of the immune system.

Getting enough sleep is important to keep the body healthy and strong. Sleep plays an important role in your physical health. For example, sleep is involved in the healing and repair of your heart and blood vessels. Establishing regular sleeping patterns will go a long way in keeping your immune system strong.

Chronic stress can wreak havoc on our health; recent studies show that stress can negatively impact our immune system. There are many techniques you can use to reduce stress and anxiety in your life. Try yoga or Tai Chi, both combine mental and physical exercise, and can help heal the mind and the body. Other simple techniques include breathing exercises or taking a walk.

According to the Center for Disease Control, the single best way to prevent seasonal flu is to get vaccinated each year. However, there are good health habits that can reduce your risk as well. Washing your hands often can help stop the spread of germs, preventing respiratory illnesses like the cold and flu. Read on for more tips on how to avoid the cold or flu this season.

FIT TIP #1: Cover your mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing.

FIT TIP #2: Avoid close contact with people who are sick, if possible stay home when you are sick.

FIT TIP #3: Get an annual flu vaccination.

Summer Fitness Challenge Achievements

Ninety-seven residents completed this year's Summer Fitness Challenge! Gold, silver and bronze t-shirts were awarded to participants and the fitness challenge champs have been wearing them very proudly. This was our third annual Summer Fitness Challenge and we look forward to having even more residents participate next year!

Health & Recreation's Summer Fitness Challenge is a simple one; here's how it works. You select one of three destinations and then begin logging miles by exercising on the cardiovascular equipment in the Health & Recreation Fitness Center (treadmill, bike, elliptical or rowing machine). The destination choices are 150 miles, 300 miles or 500 miles. We award five miles for every 30 minutes of cardiovascular activity completed in the fitness center, and participants have all of July and August to log their miles.

This year's 500 mile champs earned a gold t-shirt, the 300 mile champs earned a silver t-shirt and the 150 mile champs earned a bronze t-shirt. On average here's how the goal destinations break down into weekly exercise duration:

- 500 mile goal = approximately five and a half hours per week of cardiovascular activity.
- 300 mile goal = approximately three and a half hours per week of cardiovascular activity.
- 150 mile goal = approximately two hours per week of cardiovascular activity.

We all know that physical activity is good for us; the Summer Fitness Challenge makes it fun and provides a little incentive to stick to your fitness routine. Larry Robinson, Health & Recreation's full time personal trainer, overheard several residents' comment that the challenge of achieving something provided extra motivation to exercise. Larry also noted, "Several residents came to the fitness center more often than usual to get their miles in." This is great news because not only did they earn a t-shirt, they also gained the added exercise training benefit.

Joyce Ferruolo is a regular here at the Health & Recreation fitness center. She viewed the Summer Fitness Challenge as an opportunity to increase her regular workout routine. Joyce set a goal of 300 miles to earn the silver t-shirt. She was honest and admits that mid-way through the challenge she considered lowering her miles to the 150 goal but she did not. She told me, "I was determined to finish!" The commitment and follow through was important to Joyce, it was her first time to participate in the Summer Fitness Challenge and she says she will do it again. Congratulations Joyce!

100 Grandparents

By Janet Fragapane

Mark your calendars; our next visit to Romeo Elementary will be Thursday, Nov. 14. The bus will leave at 8:30 a.m. from the old Porter's building in the Winn Dixie shopping center.

If you would like to join us in reading to the children, call Barbara Greenwood at 861-2539. Not everyone can make the event every month. So we are always in need of substitute readers. We do not like to disappoint the children.

At our October meeting with the children, a few of our grandparents came dressed for Halloween. We can never tell who has more fun, the children, the teachers, or the grandparents.

A big thank you to the Woman of the World for their donations of candies, gifts, and toys for the Romeo Round up. Also for the new socks and underwear. From the children who you help, I say bless you.

Clean, gently used clothing and shoes as well as new socks and underwear in the package are always needed. These items can be left at my home at 9791 SW 97th Place (Crescent Ridge II) or call me 861-1575.

The Food-4-Kids backpack program also has a big need. Joanne Leigh is in charge of that. Call her at 237-7637. She will gladly pick up your donations if you can't get to her house. Joanne lives at 10114 SW 92nd Street Road (Avalon). Single serving items of food can be left in the tote at her front door.

Can't shop? A check made out to Dunnellon Food-4-Kids Inc. can be mailed to P.O. 262, Dunnellon, Fla. 34430. In the memo space on your check, write backpack program. The cost for one child per week is $6. That's less than a movie ticket. $25 will fill a backpack. This might be the only food the child will have outside of school.

Keep those Campbell soup labels, Box Tops for Education and pull tabs coming. They are a very big help to the school and the children. These items can be put in the assigned drawer at the Health & Recreation Building lobby.

The children look forward to our coming. They absorb what we tell them about the world around them. Be it about nature, science, history, or what we did growing up or our travels or hobbies. Kindergarten to fifth grade love hearing and learning.

Come give it a try. The 100 Grandparents guarantee that you will find it is the best spent morning you will have all month, and you will want to do it again and again. Your rewards will be great!

Citizens Emergency Response Team

By Patricia A. Woodbury

At our October meeting, the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) prepared for the final disaster drill for the year. The drill, scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 13, had CERT members responding to a disaster left by a tornado that passed through the community affecting the neighborhoods of Avalon and Providence. There were winds of more than 70 miles per hour with large hail. These neighborhoods had trees ripped apart, with structural damage to buildings, flying glass and debris. Residents affected by this event with injuries found their way to safety and for assistance at the Arbor Conference Center.

The CERT members were briefed at the meeting regarding the type of damage they might encounter during this type of disaster. They also reviewed the type of injuries they would expect to find. Volunteer victims were moulaged (artistically painted) for various injuries for the CERT members to triage and treat.

The CERT members are grateful to those volunteers willing to give their time on a Sunday evening, and be subjected to a variety of skin colors and marks to help the members practice their skills.

Persons interested in joining CERT will be notified of the next new member training class, which will occur after the first of the year.

The next meeting of CERT is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 12. CERT meets every second Tuesday of the month at 9 a.m. in Suites E, F, and G of the Arbor Conference Center.

Persons interested in learning more about CERT are welcome to attend these meetings or contact Pat at 854-8718.

He also needed to be a vagabond so Child could place him in various locations across the United States. He travels by bus and by hitching rides. He has no particular place to go and no longer has any close family ties. He's a mysterious stranger who appears in a community that has a problem. Somebody does a very bad thing and Reacher gets involved. Several of the stories take place in Nebraska, and others follow Reacher as he heads across the country in a jagged line, based on where his rides take him.

Personality traits were carefully considered. He's calm, clear thinking under pressure, and goes to work when he senses trouble lurking. He's smart, strong and unafraid, and Child makes sure he always wins.

Earlier this year, Hollywood released a film based on this character appropriately titled "Jack Reacher." It was a box-office disappointment in this country, as the character in the film didn't reflect the personality fans had come to know. The true character is in Child's books, and we have some of them. They're shelved under the author's name in the mystery section.

We sincerely thank Joseph Hilchey and all those members of the wood shop who recently built new shelving units for our library. This organization has come to our aid on multiple occasions. We are fortunate to have both the talent and the tools available in our community.

How does a writer go about creating a fictional character that readers will want to follow through a series of books? Agatha Christie did it twice, with Hercule Poirot and Miss Marple. We do have some of her books, but let's look at an author who is still publishing books today.

Lee Child met long-term success with a character he named Jack Reacher. In a recent rerelease of "Killing Floor," his first Jack Reacher novel, he describes how he created the physically imposing man who never backs off and never backs down. He's six-feet five-inches tall and weighs 250 pounds, all of it muscle. He's a man on the move who owns only the clothes on his back and, as Child often mentions, has a toothbrush in his pocket, so he's "good to go."

Reacher needed to be highly trained in unarmed combat and in weaponry to do his good deeds, so Child gave him the background of a West Point-trained former Solidago spp., a species of Goldenrod.

Native Plant Group

By Ron Broman

I recently ventured out back to the blooming Garden of Weedin' for some cuttings of yellow, white and blues: narrowleaf sunflower, blue mist flower bee balm, and goldenrod. It seems the goldenrod had decided to volunteer. That's what Solidago does.

As I show my wife, Betty, she smiles and says, "Beautiful," then inquires, "What's that frilly, yellow bloom at the top of the arrangement?"

I proudly answer, "That's goldenrod."

And she volunteers, "Some people think goldenrod is responsible for hay fever allergies; but it's really ragweed that's to blame."

"Right," I agree. "Only one to two percent of autumn airborne pollen is from goldenrod."

"Have you written about it?"

"I think so."

"I don't remember seeing a column you've written on it."

She ought to know ... she cuts out all of my columns and now has three scrapbooks full. We both check, and as she so astutely observed, this is a first.

I'm led out back again, this time to search for clues to its specific genus. "There are over 100 species of goldenrod in North America, with over 20 in Florida." (My trusty Wildflowers of Florida Field Guide by Jaret Daniels and Stan Tekiela feeds me the information.) "All look similar, thus are hard to identify," continues the source. Thanks a lot.

The yellow flowers are arranged in large arching spike clusters. The lower leaves are long (four to five inches), the upper ones much shorter, and the stems are pubescent (fuzzy). The plants themselves are over four feet high.

I think I found it: Solidago fistulosa. One more time outside to see if we're missing anything.

What's this? It looks like Solidago but nothing like fistulosa. The flowers are a multiple of two to three branching stems, with opposite leaves (leaves coming out of the stem together, across from each other). That's not Solidago! Solidago's leaves are alternate.

Back to the book and I discover the plant to be the narrow-leaf yellow top ... a plant for another column.

So, what we have, and what you will see out there in the wild at this time of the year with the yellow, feathery tassels waving in the breeze is Solidago spp. (I write spp. because that's how to identify its species without really pinning it down. It's a species of Solidago, goldenrod; one of the 20 growing wild in Florida.)

Our schedule of workdays follows. All are invited.

- Second Wednesday, 8:30 a.m., Native Plant Garden and Longleaf Pine Trail (next to Arbor Conference Center).
- Fourth Wednesday, 8:30 a.m., traffic circle at SW 94th Street and SW 89th Court Road.

Monday, Nov. 18, the combined Native Plant Group and Unique Birders field trip will be to an RV park in Citra, where we hope to see a rare African crowned crane. Then to Orange Creek Restoration Area and Longleaf Flatwoods Preserve near Micanopy. If you are interested, call Margitta at 873-0731.

It's great to grow native!

LifeSouth Bloodmobile

By Sue & Dick Copeland

November is a memorable month! The beginning of November is especially important. On Sunday, Nov. 3, at long last, our clocks change back to a winter setting: Daylight Saving Time ends! And then, on Monday, Nov. 4, the LifeSouth Bloodmobile returns for donors to celebrate by giving a pint of your revived blood to help give continued life for others! Celebrate the new time by dropping by the Health & Recreation Building from parking lot from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and donating a pint. Hey ... bring a friend if you'd like.

Good people giving the gift of life for up to three others. Those in need of donations will appreciate your time ... and you will feel better for giving! It is easy. Donating with the LifeSouth staff is friendly and professional, and rewarding for your body and your state of mind! Sure, you will also receive a beverage and a small snack as your donation continues. And there is always a small gift as you leave plus a homemade sweet treat if you wish. Spend your new time wisely and kindly to others.

Doris Holman won our surprise gift of a beautiful necklace and earring set at September's blood drive. The gift was designed and made by our regular donor and skilled artist, Nancy Ludvik.

N-Gauge Train in a Suitcase

By Ed Beck

Are you interested in model railroading but short on space? An N-gauge train may be the answer. The Model Railroaders have a great HO-gauge layout and a great club. If you are interested in HO-gauge, by all means join the Model Railroaders.

HO-gauge is too large for many who want to have a train layout in their home. I am writing this article to inform residents that you can have a lot of fun with N-gauge in your home. This "suitcase" train is great for traveling.

My love of model railroading started at about eight years of age with a Lionel train to set up under the Christmas tree. The fact that my grandfather worked on the railroad in south Florida also peaked my interest in trains. In 1950, while stationed in the Philippines with the US Air Force, we had a large 14-foot by 20-foot HO-gauge layout in our hobby room. My personal locomotive was a 482 Mountain.

Following my discharge from the US Air Force, marriage, three sons and working took up most of my time. After retiring to On Top of the World, my main interest was golfing and building and flying R/C aircraft. While looking for something to do when it was too cold to golf or fly, I found an N-gauge train on sale at a local hobby shop. This smaller size was the answer to my space problem.

What started with one train under the Christmas tree has grown. Now in addition to the train in a suitcase, I have an N-gauge layout that is three and a half feet by seven and a half feet. It runs two trains and contains a farm area, town area, picnic area, lake, waterfall, switching yard etc.

N-gauge is not for everyone. You need to have good eyesight and steady hands for assembling the small buildings, vehicles etc. If you are interested in building an N-gauge home layout, you can come by and see mine. I am always happy to talk trains. I can be reached at 854-4918 or edrene53@aol.com.

The 25th annual Peanut Festival was held on Saturday, Oct. 5 in Williston, Florida and let me tell you ... the nuts were everywhere! The nuts were roasted, boiled, fried, baked, or in the form of a sandwich.

What could a peanut lover say? They were presented in every way possible. These nuts were sold in small individual bags or sacks ranging in weight up to 50 pounds.

There were around 135 vendors. There was one concession selling peanut brittle while another concessionaire was giving away grilled peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Two large concessions sold peanuts in every form imaginable. That was just the nutty side of the festival.

There were other vendors selling all kinds of tasty morsels including breakfast for the early birds. The festival is held the first Saturday of October every year and is a free event.

There was also live entertainment and one of the largest peanut-devouring creatures – an elephant. The estimated crowd was around 15,000.

Each year, a king and queen of the festival are chosen. Contestants aged six and younger wearing western attire may enter. The winners become little king and queen peanut.

Williston is situated west of On Top of the World on State Route 27 in Levy County. Levy County is the second largest peanut-producing county in Florida.

If you like smaller festivals, this is a great small town event. One would have to spend the greater part of the day to see or view everything that was planned. It was definitely a nutty place.

Master the Possibilities Visits Local Business

By Robert Colen

When some people think about the Ocala area, they think about horses, hospitals and retirement communities. In fact, Marion County is home to a diverse array of industries. On Monday, Sept. 16, Master the Possibilities hosted the second class in its "Economic Development Institute" series with a visit to the fast growing precision auto parts manufacturer, Scorpion Performance.

Visiting Scorpion Performance was an opportunity to experience a business that proudly emphasizes the "Made in America" label. When we arrived at the Scorpion Performance headquarters, just north of highway 27 adjacent to I-75, we were warmly greeted by their staff and the vice president of marketing, Scott Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds would take us on the hour-long tour, providing an amazing breadth of information at a level everyone understood. Many of the residents who participated in the tour already came from a manufacturing or engineering background, which enhanced the tour.

Mr. Reynolds started by providing us a background on the history of Scorpion Performance. Robert and Teresa Stopanios who began their business by building boat engines for high speed racing boats started the company in south Florida. The success of the engines led to numerous powerboat racing championships and a large contract with the federal government.

In the early 1990s, U.S. Customs agents were using the company's Blue Thunder engines in their seagoing speedboats. As the industry changed, the Stopanios saw the need to diversify their offerings and also focus on manufacturing precision racing parts. As a result, Scorpion Performance was born in 1999 and rocker arms were the first parts produced.

According to the company, Scorpion is the world's largest manufacturer of aluminum roller rocker arms. The company also produces lifters, pushrods, valves, valve springs, fuel rail kits, fuel pump pushrods, and more. Most recently, they began developing precision medical equipment with a new company, Scorpion Medical.

In 2011, Scorpion Performance moved their entire company, including nearly all of their staff from Fort Lauderdale to a 95,000 square foot complex here in Ocala. There were many reasons for this move, including the geographic location and the proximity of Ocala to major highways and cities. However, another reason was the Stopanios' love of horses.

After the brief, but detailed history of the company, Mr. Reynolds took us into the ISO 9001 certified manufacturing plant. We were given safety glasses before entering. As we walked in, the first thing I noticed was how clean and organized the facility appeared.

As we walked, we got a close up of the robotic equipment that is used to make the rocker arms, lifters and more for the high performance aftermarket parts industry. We also learned that several companies sell Scorpion products, yet do so under their own brand name, including some major original equipment manufacturers of automotive and marine engines. However, the components sold under the Scorpion name all receive additional metal finishing and anodizing that provide maximum durability for their products.

The company is also expanding into the precision medical device market. The Ocala based subsidiary, Scorpion Medical is now in the process of working with some leading surgeons and scientists in the stem cell therapy field to develop their medical device line. One product line being manufactured is for bone marrow aspiration. They are also researching and developing additional precision medical devices that fit into their core competency.

The opportunity to learn about a company of this magnitude and potential was an exciting experience. The fact that the company is headquartered here in Ocala further demonstrates what is possible in Marion County. It also showed how American manufacturers like Scorpion are able to compete with their international competitors, especially with the use of advanced technology, automation and robotics.

The Master the Possibilities "Economic Development Institute" is focused on providing class participants a first-hand look at the diversity of Marion County's economy. Our intention is to inspire and educate. We believe that the "Economic Development Institute" exemplifies the unique and quality educational experiences that are available through Master the Possibilities. As these classes develop, we hope that you will join us and learn from the experience.

Our next class in November is already full. We will be touring the Chamber & Economics Partnership's business incubator program. However, in February, we are scheduled to visit and tour Custom Windows' manufacturing facility. Look for this class in the winter/spring catalog available in December. I look forward to seeing you there.

The fall season is officially upon us and the holiday season is right around the corner. This time of year is meant to be spent with family and friends. Thanksgiving is just weeks away so remember to be thankful for what this wonderful world has given you. I am thankful for my family and friends. I feel truly blessed and have learned that anything can happen so don't take life for granted.

The golf staff would like to send out special congratulations to the Candler Hills Ladies Golf Association for their second straight Solheim Cup victory. They were victorious over the On Top of the World Ladies Golf Association after three grueling days with a final score of 31 to 15. Well-done ladies.

We also would like to congratulate Walt Pacuk for becoming the Candler Hills Men's Golf Association club champion. Well-done Walt!

Golf Tip of the Month

How does pressure affect your game? For those of you who watched this year's Presidents Cup, you can understand how pressure affects your game. When your adrenalin is pumping and your palms are sweating it makes for a difficult shot. Make sure you stay in the present and don't think about the next hole or what the end result may be. Focus on one shot at a time and try not to over analyze the situation. Lastly, take a couple deep breaths and commit to the shot. Step up to the shot and swing with confidence.

Men's Golf Association

By Bill McGarry

I would like to introduce myself, Bill McGarry. I have been elected as the new president of the On Top of the World Men's Golf Association. The following individuals were also elected to fill out the other board positions: Vice President Mike Driver; Secretary Steve Becker; Treasurer Len Ruble; Tournament Directors: Ross MacDonald and Ray Misser; Food Director John (Fitz) Langville; and Director at Large Paul East and John Hill. A big welcome is extended to all. To our members, the board is here to serve the needs of our association. Please feel free to contact any board member to express thoughts or suggestions.

The participation in Chicken Day was great. Thanks to all the members who cast their ballots in the election. As a reminder we have two Chicken Days left in 2013.

We are in the process of updating our handbook. It will be available for our members at December's Chicken Day. As the snowbirds return, we are seeing the number of golfers attending Chicken Day increase, which is great. I encourage all of our members to take part in these dinners.

Our collection for Hospice is moving along very nicely and we will be presenting our donation check to that Organization at our December Chicken Day.

As everyone knows the ladies do a great job serving our food on Chicken Day, however, they could use some help. If there are any ladies out there who can spare two hours on Chicken Day and would like to enjoy a good meal and pleasant company, please call Rose McGarry at 873-3662.

In closing, have a great month and enjoy your Thanksgiving.

Candler Hills Men's Golf

By Joe Alfano

Have you ever misplaced something and gone bonkers trying to remember where it was? Such was the problem for CHMGA President Walt Pacuk. And the item in question that was causing all this consternation you may ask?

Seems he couldn't find his putting stroke, and as luck would have it, just days before our Club Championship was to commence. Yet when all seemed lost, lo and behold he did find it and proceeded to put it to good use in winning this year's CHMGA Club Championship. For that we all take pride in congratulating a no more deserving gentleman, friend and fellow competitor than Walt.

Congratulations also goes out to all Low Gross and Low Net Flight Champions as well as all the other competitors from their respective flights that put their games on display for all to see. The association wishes to thank our pros, Denise Mullen and Logan Stringer, for all their help and to Tournament Chairman Dennis Norris for all the time and effort put into the running of this event. A special thanks to Social Chairman Rich Trembulak for arranging such a fine post-tournament luncheon and lastly, a thank you to the staff in the restaurant for their timely and professional service.

Our Tuesday, Nov. 5 members meeting will soon be upon us and with it we will be saying a fond au revoir to Treasurer Marc Schaffer, whose term is expiring and has decided to give his check writing hand a long overdue vacation. The entire membership wishes to thank him for his service to the association, yet we all take great comfort in knowing that we haven't seen the last of the "Hammer."

Members should be aware that two board terms are expiring and anyone interested in running for election to fill these vacancies should make that intention known to any board member.

Our ever-successful fundraising efforts will go on hiatus after the November meeting for the remainder of the year. As I am wont to do, the membership should be commended for their kind generosity in this endeavor to give back to the community. We will re-commence in March 2014, so be on the lookout for league days for Alphonse and Gaston to purchase that winning ticket.

Famed writer, John Updike, once said, "Golf appeals to both the idiot and child in us. Just how childlike golfers become is proven by their frequent inability to count past five." Having no such problem with their math skills this past month were Tom Garrison (76), Walt Pacuk, Lon Scheibal and Bryant Giffin (77), Larry Smallwood (78), and Mike Buschur, Garry Gerlach and Bill Anger (79). Well done 'bashin' yer Haskell' gentlemen.

We continue to be an ever-growing coterie that exhibits both ineffable and convivial qualities. We do love our golf albeit with a dash of humor and a sprinkling of chicanery. Anyone interested in playing in such an environment can contact me at tjalf8371@yahoo.com for more information.

As always, I continue to wish everyone a life full of "nothing but fairways and greens" my friends, simply fairways and greens."

The Billiards Club met earlier this month and held their annual nomination and election of officers to serve on the board in 2014. Political favors lavished on potential voters included pizza, soda, salad and desserts. Unlike the past years, this election was a real nail biter with the outcome in doubt until the last piece of pepperoni on the last slice of pizza was distributed and the final vote was counted. When the dust finally settled and all the favors were apportioned out, the results were as follows: President Richard Impresa; Vice President Joe Amiglio; Second Vice President Penny Wilson; Treasurer Mike Retter; Entertainment Coordinators Bill Daly and Penny Wilson; and Recording Secretary (temporary) Richard Impresa.

Thanks to Joe, Mike, Penny and Bill for volunteering their time and effort to the club. You may notice that, for the first time in many years, George Tookmanian is no longer on the board of officers. George has recently decided to retire and pass the baton to newer members.

For the past 15 years, George has been an integral part of our club and our community. Besides billiards, George has been active in the softball program, often tending to the condition of the field himself by dragging the scraping mat around the infield to smooth it out before and after the games. He was among the founders of our club and has served as president and treasurer as well as writing the billiard column in the past.

George was born in New York City. He married Catherine, the love of his life in 1944, and served his country honorably during World War II as a submariner in the United States Navy from 1944 through 1946. He began playing pool after moving here in 1996. Over the years, he was always there whenever anyone needed help or advice. George is one of those rare people that no one has a bad word about. The next time you see him, give him a pat on the back, a firm handshake, and a big "thank you" for his service to our country and our community.

Speaking of retirement, team #1 will be playing without one of our charter members this year. Fred Adolph has decided to forfeit his position on our team in protest of the celibacy rule imposed on our players. As you may recall from past columns, Fred's "slip ups" had a direct correlation with team losses in the last few seasons and when I informed him that there would be unannounced spot inspections this season, he decided to quit.

Not since King Edward VIII abdicated the throne of England in 1936 to marry a commoner has one man given up so much for one woman. We wish Fred and Jimmy health and happiness, and may you "go forth and multiply." Until next month, keep stroking and keep your tip dry.

Candler Hills Ladies 18-Hole

By Joan Gustafson

The Candler Hills Ladies Golf Association is so proud and excited that the Solheim Cup for 2013 has remained in with Candler Hills. This is the second year that the Candler Hills Ladies Golf Association has captured the trophy!

D'Clowns

By Mike Roppel

D'Clowns is busy now that the snowbirds have returned to their winter nest. In October, we participated in the Picnic at the First Congregational United Church of Christ. We painted faces and applied tattoos for the youngsters. This is the second year D'Clowns has been to the Picnic.

Dee Dee, Skittles and Penny at the Mardi Gras celebration at Quiet Oaks.

The Solheim Cup tournament is a three-day event. On Sept. 30, the ladies from Candler Hills played the On Top of the World ladies in a Match Play event. The results for the first day were Candler Hills 6-1/2 to On Top of the World 2-1/2 points.

On Oct. 3, the tournament was Alternate Shot and the results were Candler Hills 12 points and On Top of the World 6 points. The final day, Oct. 4, the tournament was Individual Play, with the final score of Candler Hills 21 points and On Top of the World 15 points.

The Solheim Cup tournament is a very challenging event, but it does get us to play with members of the On Top of the World Ladies Golf Association. We meet new members every year from each of the organizations and this helps to form some new friendships. Next year, we hope more members will get involved from both organizations.

Many of the members of the Candler Hills LGA who did not play were so supportive of their fellow members. We had members who made supportive signs and had them placed all around the golf course encouraging the tournament members. It was a wonderful feeling knowing we had their support. A very special thank you goes to Carol Joseph, Mary Pat Giffin, and Heddy Racinowski. What a "team" the Candler Hills LGA!

We had two Thursday events on Sept. 19, and Sept. 27, which were basically practice rounds for the Solheim Cup. They were Match Play, Alternate Shot, and individual play. Our website has the results for those events.

The Candler Hills LGA is happy that some of our snowbirds are returning. The Presidents Cup took place on Wednesday, Oct. 30. Results will be printed in the December column.

Until next time "hit them straight."

Arbor Club Tennis

By Jorge Privat

It's been another fun month of tennis, mainly because of the weather. It's time to start thinking about our mixed doubles year-end tournament. You pick your own partner. Let me know if you would like to have a men's doubles and a women's doubles tournament as well. I think it would be fun to have them.

I would like to express my appreciation to all those who participated in my free clinics. Hopefully, you all learned a little more than what you knew before and will be happy to implement your improvement in your regular play.

Do you realize how tennis affects your life?

If you do, you will notice the similarities in which tennis reflects life, and on this note I will try to explain as follows:

What is life? In simple terms, our life is how we act in this world. How you think, how you do or don't control your emotions? What is more valuable to you? How you spend your time? The aspirations you have, etc.

This is life, and tennis should play a big part of it. Life is forming you as a person each day, whether you realize it or not. What you do on the court matters a great deal. Once we come to know that tennis is life, the discovery becomes a gift. Tennis can then be used as a training tool to shape us in such a way that we will become more and more like what we were created to be.

Tennis is not about winning or losing – it is so much more. The scoring of the game has led players to the false assumption that the only accurate assessment of their performance is winning. In fact, winning has gone to such an extreme that it has put a superficial worth on the biggest winners in the game. The top achievers are valued more as people than lower level players.

In reality, this is simply not true. The game is more important than the players, however what the players do in the game matters a great deal because it forms their character.

In fact, sports should play a large part in building character, but we must start where few programs do, with the basics. The basics of all sports are the ethics and morality by which the athletes play. Proper ethics must be taught often, always from the first day, and insisted on at each and every practice.

Players must be educated about the spiritual aspect of who they are - how their mind, emotions and desires tie into who they are as a person. The knowledge and growth of internal abilities promotes and sustains external capabilities. Therefore a player's greatest power comes more from within - from spiritual proficiency rather than from external execution.

Once these tools are established as the foundation, each individual player can be then taught how to hit the ball mechanically and how to play the game tactically. This progression needs to be appropriate to each individual because it is at the heart and soul of all life.

Tennis is a great sport, but many players don't realize just how far it can reach and all it can do. When the "why" you play establishes the "how" you play, deeper and longer lasting skills are developed. You will also find the tennis skills you develop on court will become great assets in life. You will gain life skills from tennis skills as a bonus.

See you on the courts!

Shuffleboard

By Grace Rohde

Wednesday, Oct. 9 was our first, in house, Ten Pin Tournament. Peter Van Arsdale, tournament director, organized the event. Refreshments were served, and Peter's wife, Beverly, again made her chocolate chip and snicker doodle cookies, "favorites" with the players. Ginny Smith was our scorekeeper, who kept track of all the players and their wins or losses.

We had a good turnout of 22 players who were all anxious to try out their ten pin skills. When it was time to begin, chips were drawn to determine placement; that is, the position they would play and who their opponent would be. Five rounds would be played.

In the first three rounds, the players eagerly competed with each other. Even those whose scores were down seemed to have enthusiasm to do better, and some of them did. Perhaps a few of them recalled and were encouraged by Peter Van Arsdale's famous cheer from a few months ago, "You can do it!"

The fourth round came and we were down to four players: Bob Durst, Jim Smith, Armann Rohde and Vito Chieco. It was exciting to watch: both players and spectators held their breath as the ten pin, when accidentally being hit, would wobble back and forth, with everyone wondering if it would stay upright or topple over resulting in a minus 10 for the player who hit it.

It was time for the fifth and final round. We now had two players left, Jim and Armann. This was the suspenseful round – the winner was Armann and the runner-up was Jim. Congratulations to both of them.

For those of you who have not seen it, the shuffleboard court has a new glass enclosed billboard closer to the sidewalk for all to see. In it is the Jack Huard Memorial Championship Tournament plaque, which lists all of the winners and runners-up since 1992. Also on display are various announcements and other information regarding the Shuffleboard Club. Stop by and have a look.

Just a reminder that you can still sign up for the traveling shuffleboard team. Contact the captain of your regular team

Softball

By Bill Leon

The summer softball season is now over, with quite a few surprises. All expected the Stone Creek team to be the team to beat, but as it turned out, they just couldn't put their wins together and ended at the bottom of the pack. The Overholser Eye team which led the league for quite a while surprisingly fell short and slowly began to head to the bottom of the league. The Stone Creek and Overholser Eye teams ended up sharing last place when the season was over.

The Wise Way and Ceberet Wealth teams started out in the cellar and slowly started putting some key wins together. Ceberet Wealth was the first to climb out of the cellar and during the last month of the season, was close to taking over the top spot in the league.

Finally, with the last two weeks, Ceberet Wealth took over the lead and began pulling away. The Wise Way team also began putting some key wins together and with the last two weeks of the season moved into second place challenging the Ceberet Wealth team for the lead. There were now four games to go and the Wise Way team was in striking distance, but couldn't maintain their winning streak and in the final two games, they lost a key game allowing the Ceberet Wealth team to become the league champions.

It turned out to be a good season and fun for all.

Community Patrol

By Patricia A. Woodbury

At many of the monthly meetings of the Community Patrol, some continuing education is given regarding our purpose and specific rules or regulations. Richard Enos, trainer, at the September meeting restated the purpose of the Community Patrol program is to serve as additional eyes and ears for the Marion County Sheriff's Office. It is not intended to replace routine patrol activities of the sheriff, but to provide the County with additional observation capabilities to reduce crime in our neighborhood.

Since all members are covered while on patrol duty by the Marion County Florida Sheriff's Self Insurance Fund and authorized to drive a county vehicle, as well as being eligible for workers compensation, if injured while on duty, it is important that any accident the patrol member has while driving the patrol car be reported. Rich reviewed the procedure for what the patrol member should do in the event of having an accident with the patrol car.

If a patrol member sees a vehicle accident, the correct procedure is to call 911, identify his/her self and the location. If in the patrol car, move the patrol car away from the accident and let the officer on the scene handle the situation.

Rich provided a very nice set up of information at the table for the Community Patrol at the Thursday, Sept. 26 Club Fair. He and other patrol members greeted many residents who were interested in the patrol's function. Hopefully some of them were interested enough to consider joining the patrol.

The next meeting of the Community Patrol is Monday, Nov. 25.

Anyone interested in becoming part of the Community Patrol should call Richard Enos at 304-8477. Our meetings are usually held on the fourth Monday of the month in rooms B and C of the Arbor Conference Center at 3 p.m. Come and join us; the meeting is open to everyone.

Cades Cove

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

Viewing wildlife and going back in time to experience how people lived at the turn of the century are always very interesting to me. Recently, my wife and I headed to the Great Smoky Mountains for a relaxing trip on our own. We have been to the Smokies many times but still have not seen everything. This time, we visited a few new places and one of those places was Cades Cove.

Cades Cove is a broad, verdant valley surrounded by mountains and is a popular destination. The valley is rich with history and wildlife is abundant: white-tailed deer, black bear, coyote, groundhog, turkey, raccoon, skunk, and other animals are also possible.

The best time to see wildlife is either early in the morning or late in the afternoon. We went in the afternoon. Traffic along the way to Cades Cove was light.

We stopped along the way visiting Meigs Falls, one of many waterfalls in the National Park but the only one not requiring a lot of walking. Meigs Falls can be seen from the roadway. With over 2,000 miles of streams and rivers, there are countless numbers of waterfalls but most, if not all, require a lot of walking and in some cases that walk can be miles one way.

Reaching the Cades Cove Loop Road, a one way paved narrow 11-mile loop, we noticed a farmer spreading horse manure, as there was a stable close by. In the field enjoying the afternoon sun were four tom turkeys.

A little further down the road we came upon stopped traffic. People were out of their cars looking out over an open field. As we joined the crowd, we saw three bears in a tree. The bears were hard to see through the tree's foliage but every once in a while you could get a glimpse of a portion of a bear.

After folks started moving again, we came upon another area where cars were moving at a very slow pace. This time, it was not bears but white-tailed deer. One of the deer was eating right alongside the road. It was amazing to see the deer only a few feet away.

Cades Cove offers the most historic buildings of any area in the national park. Scattered along the loop road are three churches, a working grist mill, barns, log houses, and many other restored 18th and 19th century structures.

The historic buildings along this loop are not all located close to the road. The oldest cabin is about a half-mile walk and viewing the cabin is from the outside only.

Finally, we reached the Cades Cove Visitor Center located about halfway around the loop. The only structure original to this area is the John Cable Grist Mill. Other buildings, relocated to this area, were also here such as the Gregg-Cable House, and his farm structures.

We made several stops to view wildlife while driving the rest of the loop. The entire trip to Cades Cove took over four hours from the Sugarlands Visitor Center.

Am I the only person who cannot believe it is already November? Soon, we will be adding another year and I am only getting used to writing 2013. It must be November, because I am reporting on our October meeting.

Yes, in October, we celebrated Oktoberfest with a delicious dinner prepared by Micki Malsh. I am sure Ed helped her, though he says his only job is reaching for things on high shelves. We had pork roast, knockwurst with sauerkraut, pierogis, applesauce, sweet and sour red cabbage, rye bread and for dessert, German chocolate cupcakes and apple strudel. There was so much delicious food; everyone left holding their stomachs.

Once again, we must thank our wonderful members, who are always there to help. Larry and Shirley Wilver, Eileen and John Kreps, Rod Emrick, Don and Joanne Oakes all helped with the setup. All of those also helped with cleanup along with Janet and Lou Wahl, Sharon and Fred Tarolli, and Nell and Jim Entinger. Of course, our cooks, Micki and Ed, were there for setup and cleanup. I hope I didn't forget anyone but if I did, please remember we appreciate your service and my mind isn't what it used to be.

For November, our program will be horse racing; so bring your money to bet. Remember, all money bet is returned to the members who pick the winning horse. For those of you who are new, it is hard to explain our horse racing in the Arbor Conference Center but I will say, "Just come and see"; you will not believe it. That will be Wednesday, Nov. 13, in Suites E and F in the Arbor Conference Center. The meeting starts at 3 p.m., but come early for refreshments and fellowship.

Visually Impaired

By Lee Wagner

Are you aware that there is now a treatment for wet and dry macular degeneration that will most likely reverse or at least slow down the progress of the disease? It is called the Santa Fe Eye Protocol and comes to us through the work of Dr. Alston C. Lundgren, Santa Fe, New Mexico – hence the name.

While it is still in experimental stages, the results of the treatments have been presented at various arenas, such as the 18th International Congress of Eye Research in Beijing, the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center Eye Center and the Annual Scientific Symposium of the American Academy of Medical Acupuncture.

Dr. Lundgren has performed over 7,000 treatments on over 1,100 patients with the result that over 85% of the patients with either wet or dry macular degeneration have experienced excellent improvement in their vision. There are few risks so the protocol has been welcomed into the area of traditional treatments such as vitamin therapy, photodynamic therapy, thermal laser, macugen, avastin and lucentis.

At our October meeting, we had Dr. Charles Simpson of the Downtown Chiropractic and Wellness Center speak to us at length and in great detail about what happens to our bodies, particularly our bones, as we age. He also talked a lot about nutrition and exercise. It is important to take care of ourselves.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 1:30 p.m., at the Arbor Conference Center, Suite H.

Speaker will be Brad Lee of the Miami-Dade Metro Crime Unit. He will tell us all about the newest scams, mainly directed against senior citizens. So come and hear how to protect yourself.

Bring a friend and, of course, caregivers are most welcome. Any questions, call Lee Wagner at 237-4843.

Southern Club

By Ida Willink

Many thanks to the Southern Club folks who manned our booth at the recent Club Fair, inviting people to taste southern food such as black eyed peas, corn bread, peach cobbler and cookies.

Special thanks to Jeanne Stanley, John Battocletti, Carolyn Hancock, Fran Allen and Chuck Simmons.

The meeting on Thursday, Oct. 3 went very well and I hope that you didn't miss it. There was a nice meal, many visitors and great entertainment by the Sidekicks Western Dance Club.

Our next meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 7 at the Health & Recreation Ballroom with the social hour beginning at 5 p.m. and dinner at 5:30 p.m. This will be a catered chicken dinner and each member is asked to contribute $1. Club members are reminded that if your last name begins with A or B you are asked to bring appetizers, those whose names begin with C through I are to bring salads, those whose names start with L through R should bring vegetables and those starting with S through Z are asked to bring deserts.

You may recall that in last month's column, I referred to my husband as a Yankee from Wisconsin. One of my friends told me that Yankees came only from the northeastern states and that being from Wisconsin hardly qualified him for such a classification. I checked in Webster's pocket dictionary. Although the first definition says a Yankee is "a native or inhabitant of New England," the second definition states that a Yankee is "a native or inhabitant of the northern U.S." Well, maybe that makes him a second class Yankee. In any case, he keeps struggling to be "more southern." He has learned to say, "Y'all" instead of "you all" and likes to say, "Well, bless my grits." He thinks that sounds really southern! Y'all come!

Caribbean Club hosted a mini fashion show for its members at their September meeting. The models were members who volunteered to show off some wares. It was a fun filled show as they paraded down the aisle receiving their rightful applause for participating. They donned casual clothes as well as evening wear and looked very much like models.

Of course, there was laughter and fun as our surprise model came out donning a woman's dress and paraded down the aisle to the oohs and aahs of the crowd. Our thanks to all who participated.

Our snowbirds should be back at the hive as of this month. We have missed them and welcome them back.

We received a generous donation of material from Ron Mayberry. We thank you very much, Ron.

Soon, summer will just be a memory as we prepare for the upcoming holidays. The hive will be preparing 50 stockings for children and we have been gathering small gifts all year long. Soon we will be piecing together flannel quilts and Christmas quilts.

We would like to thank all those who visited our table during the Club Fair and to those who stopped to see our wares at the Rags to Riches. As this is our only fundraiser, we appreciate any purchases from the community and the surrounding area.

Our mission is to provide comfort for the abused, abandoned, and neglected children of Marion County. Your donations all year long help us to do just that. Stop by our hive on any Thursday in the Art Room, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. We would be happy to show you our creations made with love for the children. New members are very welcome.

If you no longer sew but have cotton fabric, fiberfill or batting cluttering up your closets, please consider donating the materials to the Sewing Bees. We will put it to good use!

Please contact LeeAnn 854-7205 or Rita Miller 237-6660 for more information. As always, the children and we thank you for all your support.

Have a blessed Thanksgiving!

Our group is open to all crafters, beginners or those more experienced. One or two people do a presentation each month. The group usually meets the first and third Thursdays of the month, unless the demonstrator requests other arrangements. There are basic supplies that are needed, such as a trimmer, glue, scissors, and card stock. Everyone in the group shares their supplies and everyone brings new ideas to the table. You are only limited by your imagination!

Democratic Club

By Dan Lack

Our November meeting will take place on the third Thursday of the month because we expect our members to be happily stuffing themselves with Thanksgiving turkey on the fourth Thursday.

The first order of business on Thursday, Nov. 21 will be the announcement by our nominating committee of the slate of candidates for our 2014 board of directors. The election will occur at our January meeting. Our board consists of four directors as well as the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. We need your help during an important year when Governor Scott, Congressman Yoho and our state legislators are up for re-election. Please use the contact information in the last paragraph to let us know that you want to contribute a little bit of your time to our club.

This will be an exciting meeting in which all attendees will have an opportunity to participate. Any and all topics are up for discussion: The club! The community! Current events! Local, state or national politics!

This will be our final meeting of 2013 because we give ourselves a vacation during holiday time at the end of December. Let's have a great turnout and enjoy a lively conversation! And please don't forget to bring items for the Ocala Ritz Veterans Village.

We meet on the fourth Thursday of every month (except this month) at 6 p.m. in Suites E and F at the Arbor Conference Center. For more information, call Dan Lack at 509-4942 or send an e-mail to otowdemclub@gmail.com or visit our Facebook page (On Top of the World Democratic Club). You are not alone!

Republican Club

By Fred Pulis

The October meeting featured guest speaker David Moore, Marion County Commissioner for District 1. He provided an extensive informative up-to-date presentation about the problems and proposed solutions for county related issues. His presentation was followed by a free-for-all question and answer period.

The next scheduled meeting will be held on Friday, Nov. 8 in the Arbor Conference Center, Suites E, F, and G. A special starting time of 6:30 p.m. will include the normal Republican Club business before the dinner and special guest.

The November's scheduled guest speaker is United States House of Representative Ted Yoho. Congressman Yoho will be making his first and only visit to the club this year. As a newly elected Third District Representative, he will provide an informative update on proposed and passed Congressional legislation and well as his personal experiences in the nation's Capitol. Local, state, and national issues will be discussed and thereby will provide invaluable information to residents.

Congressman Yoho's speech will be held in conjunction with the annual Jerry Cauda Holiday Social. The menu includes sliced sirloin with mushroom sauce, lemon rosemary chicken, roasted potatoes, Key West blend vegetables, chocolate mousse for dessert, coffee, iced tea, and three types of wine.

Tickets are $20 each and are on sale now and must be purchased prior to the event. Please contact Fred Pulis at 854-9976 or Opal Stroud at 237-7737 for tickets.

All regular meetings are scheduled for the second Friday of each month at the Arbor Conference Center, Suites E, F, and G. The meetings start at 7 p.m. and usually last about an hour.

Our karaoke group is in high demand these days; it's nice to be wanted. Lolly asked us to entertain at the bingo appreciation dinner in November. There was such a good turn out last time at the Oasis Restaurant that they want us back. They also want us back at the Bahama House in Daytona, and we are going to entertain the folks at Quiet Oaks. We were even approached about doing karaoke at Candler Hills Restaurant.

And of course we still do karaoke at 7 p.m., on the second and fourth Monday, at the Candler Hills Community Center. So come join us! For more information, call George at 873-9667.

Bocce

By Michelle Malsch

Here we roll again! The Bocce Club is off to a great start. Many familiar faces as well as new players were anxious to get the ball rolling as our new season got underway. One of our newest team members, Irma Cruz, had never played the game before. She caught on very quickly and it has been said by other players what a knack she has and how well she is playing the game. She really enjoys playing.

Open Bocce is played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 9 a.m. Anyone is permitted to play during these days at this time. League play is on Tuesdays at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m., and Thursdays at 10 a.m. If you have never played before, or want to learn, why not join us to see how the game is played? Try it! You'll like it!

New team players and substitute players are always welcome. Head Director Don Oakes can be reached at 854-8364 for further information.

Until we roll again ...

Another month has gone by and it is so good to tell you that our theme was to sing an Elvis Presley song. No problem ... we had so many to choose from. We all sat back and enjoyed it.

Our thanks to Charlie and Kathy for the wonderful music that makes us all sound good.

Remember, we meet the first and third Mondays of the month, at the Arbor Conference Center, Suites E and F, from 6 to 9 p.m. A song on your lips puts happiness in your heart.

Our stars for the month were Charlie, Kathy, Donnie, Shirley, Tara, Vince, Art, Catherine, Tom, Vivian, Jerry, Bob, Norma, Sindy, and Rick.

Until next time, "Keep on singing and God bless."

One Blood Bloodmobile

By Sara Sommer

The Big Red Bus was here on Monday, Oct. 7. Thanks to all the heroes who braved the weather and donated blood. Here are their names: Esther Banda-Cohen, Linda Blewitt, George Borgia, Ron Bozzonetti, Kay Chandler, Ray Governatori, Zsuzsanna Jobbagy, Margaret and Reinhard Koller, Audrey Mangan, Lydia Martinez, Tom Mc Haffie, Joan Rappaport, Geoffrey Smith, Sara Sommer, Hal Stanley, Sharon Taplett, and Emma Wanamaker. Some of these may have been turned away for various reasons, but at least they tried.

Our next blood drive will be Monday, Dec. 2. The Big Red Bus will be in the Health & Recreation parking lot from 7:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. I know December is a busy time. I hope you can spare some time to save a life.

Mountain Farm Museum

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

One very popular tourist destination for those visiting the Great Smoky Mountains National Park is the Mountain Farm Museum. The museum is located just behind the Oconaluftee Visitor Center at the park's southern entrance on U.S. Route 441, not far from Cherokee, N.C.

The Mountain Farm Museum is a unique collection of farm buildings that have been assembled from different locations throughout the park. The museum is a way of preserving the buildings at one single location. The farm includes a house, barn, apple house, springhouse, smokehouse, and blacksmith shop along with a few animals. Most of the structures were constructed in late 19th century and moved to this present location in the 1950s.

The farmhouse, named the Davis House, gives the visitor a chance to see how families lived in this region 100 years ago. The house was constructed from chestnut tree logs. The house was built long before the chestnut blight decimated the American chestnut in forests during the late 1930s and early 1940s.

At the farm site, the gardens demonstrate historic gardening practices used by the settlers in the Smoky Mountains. Everything at the museum is as authentic as possible except one item. There is modern chicken wire around apple trees, which protects them from elk.

Centuries ago elk roamed the southern Appalachian Mountains but due to over hunting and loss of habitat, the elk disappeared. In 2001, 25 elk were introduced into the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. By 2011, the herd has grown to 140 and is thriving. The project was an experiment but is now considered a reintroduction.

Right next to the farm museum is a large field. This is a perfect location for viewing grazing elk. Elk generally are in open areas during early morning or late evening hours.

Our timing was a bit off so we weren't able to see any elk. I guess you could say our visit to view elk was "a day late and a dollar short."

Art Group

By Anne Merrick

Several members of this group belong to the Marion Cultural Alliance (MCA) and show their work at Artful Gifts on The Town Square.

Carole, Delores, Anne and Regina have work up almost every month. It's fun to go up to the reception on the first Saturday of the month from 6:30 to 8 p.m. to see the amazing variety of styles and mediums. After you have looked around, you can go out on The Town Square, have a dance or two and get an ice cream. The gallery is also open during the Farmer's Market. Pop in when you buy your vegetables.

Both Carole and Delores belong to other Ocala art organizations and show their work in other places. Carole teaches drawing, watercolor and pastel art at Master the Possibilities and Oak Run. It is such fun to find what you would like to paint, start, experiment and watch as it all comes together.

Why don't you join us on Thursday and Saturday mornings in the Art Room? For more information, call Anne at 732-0706.

African crowned crane.Birders' Beat

By Anne Merrick

This month's bird is a very rare African crowned crane. There are several different types of crowned cranes and it is somewhat difficult to determine whether this one is an Eastern or Western African crowned crane.

They are found in Africa, south of the Sahara desert, sporting yellow head feathers like a crown. They are among the largest of the crane family standing almost three feet tall with a wingspan that can reach six to seven feet across when in flight. It is unusual to see one of these birds outside of a zoo in North America. This one is especially tame, eating out of birdfeeders and friendly to people. It is often seen at the Grand Lake Golf and RV Resort in Orange Lake.

The Marion Audubon Society has extended an invitation to a talk on Saturday, Nov. 2, at 10 a.m. by Steve Nesbitt about Sandhill and African crowned cranes at the RV park.

The Unique Birders and the Native Plant Group will be taking a trip to try to see this rare bird and to walk some local trails, at Orange Creek Restoration Area and Long Leaf Flatwoods Preserve, east of Micanopy, on Monday, Nov. 18. Anyone wishing to make the trip should meet under the big tree in the Health & Recreation parking lot at 7:30 a.m. to carpool. Lunch will be at a local restaurant.

The leaders of this outing are Carolyn Retey and Margitta Claterbos. Call Margitta at 873-0731 for more information regarding both events.

World Traveler

By Bill Shampine

The Puglia (or Apulia) area of Italy (southeast Italy, near the "heel") has some very interesting sites for tourists. The major attraction in the area is the Trulli District, located near the small town of Alberobello.

A trullo (trulli is the plural) is a traditional Puglian stone hut with a conical roof. These beehive-shaped buildings date back to the 14th century, and are very specific to the Itria Valley in the Puglia area. They typically were small, about eight to nine feet wide inside, and about six feet to the top of the stonewall, with a conical roof rising about another ten to twelve feet.

Trulli were built using dry stone masonry, meaning without any mortar or cement. They are round in shape, unless several are combined, in which case they take on a square floor plan. The stonewalls are made of limestone boulders and are two layers thick (perhaps 24 inches). The roof is built with flat limestone stones (perhaps 15 by 15 inches) that lay partially on top of one another as they are built up, thus creating a cone shape.

The peak is finished with a hand-worked sandstone pinnacle. The design of the pinnacle may be a disk, ball, cone, bowl, etc. and serves as a signature of the stonemason who built the trullo. The buildings usually were built as temporary shelters or storehouses, but they also were used as dwelling by laborers and small shop owners.

There is a fair amount of debate about why the blocks of the trulli were not cemented together to make permanent structures. The most popular story told to tourists is that it was a clever way to avoid taxes. Based on what Margitta and I were told, in the early days, property taxes were very high. Since the trulli were built of loose stone, "when the taxman cometh", the home could be turned into a pile of loose rocks overnight—no house, no tax! After the taxman left, however, the house could be rebuilt relatively quickly and easily. Although documented to have happened as a tax haven at least once, that story may or may not be true as a general rule. Nevertheless, it is a good story to tell the tourists.

Trulli are popular with tourists, and some locals restore, or build, them to rent out as mini-apartments. Restoration or new construction is expensive, however, as Trulli are protected under the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization world heritage law.

A small Trulli village located in the town of Alberobello has been classified as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and is a fun place for tourists to visit.

The Missing Pill

By Annette Sharpe

There are lotions for wrinkles,
Warts, age spots and such,
Pills for gas, indigestion,
That don't help much.
There are pain pills, nerve pills,
And vitamins galore,
Potions and pills
Our pep to restore.
There are hormones for menopause,
And help for this or that,
There's a pill to control mood swings,
And one that burns fat.
There are meds for the Heart, liver and lungs,
And kidneys to function just right
Sleeping pills, stimulants, aspirin,
And Aspercreme, a senior's delight
There are eye drops, nose drops,
Cough drops and meds for preserving sight,
Also, sedatives, diet pills
Preparations, to go or not,
Keeping things balanced just right.
There are cures for most things,
And it's knowledge worth knowing,
But there is no pill I currently need,
That keeps the toenails from growing?

Bingo

By Mort Meretsky

It's that time again for super bingo on Wednesday, Nov. 6, in the Health & Recreation Ballroom. The rules are still the same, but if you're new or have never participated in super bingo before, I'll list them for you.

Cards are three for $5 or six for $10. We pay out $50 per game for 17 games and $250 each for three coveralls.

We always have a very large crowd, in excess of 300. We start at 6 p.m., so get there early to get a seat. Saving seats is not allowed; so don't send a person to save seats. You may, however, save seats if you are eating at The Pub.

Because of the big crowd, make sure all cell phones are turned off or put on vibrate only, and if you receive a call that you must take, please leave the room. Please no talking during the games.

The Pub always has something special for super bingo, but because of the crowd they too can become backed up. So, if you intend to eat at The Pub, get there early.

If you have any questions call me at 237-5112 or Lolly at 961-2165.

Sail Away Cruise Club

By Fred O'Blenis

Welcome aboard! The waiting will be over in a few days for the lucky club clients who are going with us on Nov. 9 on the Oasis of the Seas. Since we will be at sea for sun and fun, this column will be abbreviated.

When we return, our travel club will be promoting a nine-night cruise in November 2014 on the Explorer of the Seas out of Port Canaveral to the ABC Islands (Aruba, Bonaire and Curacao) and, of course, Royal Caribbean's private section of Haiti called Labadee. In fact, we already have cabin deposits even though we are a year from sailing. The pricing on this cruise is extremely competitive. To place a reservation hold on a stateroom is just $250 per person. Call Fred at 237-6367.

Hot off the wire ... put on something

On The Road Again

By Bob Woods

The remaining trips for 2013 are sold out. The Nashville motor coach trip scheduled for 2014 is also sold out but I am looking for anyone who wishes to place their name on the stand-by list. A lot can happen in almost a year's time. There is no obligation and no expense to be placed on the list. Call me if you would like your name on the stand-by list.

The Nashville trip departs our community on Sunday, Sept. 14, 2014 for a seven-day/ six-night jaunt. Call me or go to my website for additional information.

The Explorer of the Seas cruise for Thursday, Dec. 4, 2014 is just about sold out as of this writing. This is a 10-day/nine-night voyage. There are just a few cabins remaining. If I use up the entire cabins allocated to me that does not mean you can't

Mah Jongg

By Mary Ehle

The fall Mah Jongg tournament is over. Once again, the jackpot has eluded all the players. Several players were able to make the hand but none of them picked the winning tile themselves. It becomes a choice of waiting to see if you can get the tile or take the 75 points toward your score. This particular hand has escaped all players since 2002. That is 24 tournaments. Guess I will play next time and show the ladies how to conquer it.

The winners were some of the long time players but some of the new players as well. Everyone was extremely cooperative and we all had a great day.

Mannie Pansera won the noontime high score and then she proceeded to walk off with first prize for the day. Second place green, for a four-night cruise on the Enchantment of the Seas from Port Canaveral on March 17, 2014 (St. Patrick's Day). This cruise is going to Coco Cay and Nassau, Bahamas.

We have optional bus transportation to the port of departure and back home for the March and November 2014 cruise. Our travel consultant does all of the online check-in, shore excursions, show and specialty dining reservations. Stay tuned, or better yet, call Fred at 237-6367 to provide you with all the information you need to get started.

We're not just a travel club for the group, but a full-service support organization. Any questions about travel whether it be land or sea, please call me and I will put you in touch with the club's travel consultant.

That's it for now. Look for the December column with more on the cruise for the spring and fall of 2014. Call 237-6367 anytime with your questions and/or comments.

The Sail Away Cruise Club wishes everyone a happy and healthy Thanksgiving.

come with us (pricing might be higher). If you would like to go on this trip, please call me.

There will be a $50 shipboard credit and a one-hour free shared cocktail party for this cruise which departs Port Canaveral heading for the ABC Islands (Aruba, Curacao, Bonaire) then onto the cruise line's private beach area of Labadee, Haiti. The cocktail party means free drinks.

Deposits for this cruise are refundable up to final payment, for any reason. Booking early ensures you a cabin of your choice.

When On the Road Again or any other travel club advertises a cruise or motor coach trip, you should put down a deposit to hold your space. Some cruise lines will not refund your deposit while others will. Those cruise lines that don't, will give you a credit for a future cruise. On the Road Again uses Royal Caribbean and they will refund your entire deposit up to final payment. It's a win, win situation!

If you have any questions, please call me at 854-0702 or check out my website at www.bobwoodsontheroadagain.com. The website also includes photographs from past trips.

went to Phyllis Huntington with Anita Burnham taking third place. There was a tie for fourth place with Jean Zrowka and Nancy Clarkson taking that prize. The last prizes went to a three-way tie of Jeanne Wells, Shirley Schopf and Louise Campagna.

I am now taking reservations for the March 1, 2014 tournament. The cut off number will be 60 with the rest of the people on a substitute list. We always need those subs. Don't procrastinate; sign up soon!

I want to thank all those who helped. Special thanks to our wonderful "butler" Ray Utiss and also to our scorekeeper Bill Shampine. Ray got the coffee going for all the ladies.

I also need to thank my husband, Craig. Without his constant help in preparing, I never could do it.

Again, thanks to all of you for your help. Pat Griffith your decorations were just what we needed to brighten our day, and to all the lunch ladies food providers, thanks.

Now, jokers to you.

A Fantastic Excursion

By Bob Woods
World News Writer

A group of residents enjoyed a motor coach trip from On Top of the World to our nation's capital in September. This was a fantastic excursion exploring many historical sights and monuments in the Washington, D.C. area.

The first day consisted of a guided tour to the U.S. Capitol building. After traversing through security, our step-on guide turned the group over to a guide inside the building. The guide proceeded to take us to many chambers within the Capitol including the original chambers of the Supreme Court.

The Rotunda is a large, domed, circular room located in the center of the Capitol. This is where the group received a complete history of the building from construction to present times.

We then entered another chamber that was once home to the House of Representatives. Our guide demonstrated how the sounds within this chamber did not carry well, so many of the Representatives could not hear what the Speaker of the House was saying. The House of Representatives were moved to their new location when additional states were added to our country.

Our guide then took the group to the National World War II Memorial where the group briefly viewed this memorial dedicated to those who served during that war. Our guide also took us to the Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial, Korean War Veterans Memorial, Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall, Marine Corps War Memorial, Air Force Memorial, Nurses' Memorial, Navy Memorial, and a host of other important historical landmarks such as the Ford's Theatre.

As the group traversed between memorials, our guide pointed out the many government buildings along the way. We were also taken to Lafayette Park across from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue to view the Blair House along with the White House.

After dinner, the group was taken around the city by our guide to view historical sites lighted for the evening such as the U.S. Capitol building, Thomas Jefferson Memorial and the Washington Monument, which is currently under reconstruction after an earthquake a few years back. At the Lincoln Memorial, the group had time to venture up the stairs to the inside of the memorial.

Another evening stop was the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts where our guide took the group inside to the Hall of Nations where 191 countries' flags are flown in alphabetical order starting with the American flag and ending with the United Nations flag. The flags represent the countries the United States maintains diplomatic relations with.

The group then ventured to the Hall of States. This hall flies the flags from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and five territories. At the end of each hall is the grand foyer where a huge bronze bust of President Kennedy is situated and the entrances to the concert hall, opera house and the Eisenhower Theater are located. The flag halls are especially beautiful after dark.

On day two, the group toured Arlington National Cemetery by tram. The first stop of the tour was at the Kennedy gravesite where the eternal flame flickers in the breeze. The tram then took the group past the grave of Audie Murphy, Medal of Honor recipient and the most decorated World War II veteran.

The tram stopped outside the Memorial Amphitheater where everyone got off the tram to spend a little free time exploring the surrounding cemetery. Within sight of the Amphitheater are the USS Maine Memorial and the Space Shuttle Challenger Memorial.

After a group picture at the Amphitheater, the group watched the ceremonial Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknowns. Those guarding the tomb change the guard every 30 minutes, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The tomb has been guarded continuously since 1930.

At the conclusion of the group's stop at Arlington National Cemetery, the group headed to the Smithsonian Institute where they dispersed and toured the many museums on their own for the rest of the day after bidding farewell and thanking our step-on-guide.

On the way home, the motor coach stopped at Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden on the outskirts of Richmond, Va. Many floral gardens can be seen here. The conservatory was on the top of the list of places to view in the gardens. This facility has three sections: one is a beautiful inside garden with many flowers and a floral house; the other wing housed an array of orchids; and the third wing of the conservatory housed an array of butterflies with all their natural plant life for sustaining the insects' life.

This was a fast-paced tour lasting six days.

Holiday Fest

By Jim Chandler

The annual Holiday Golf Cart Parade will be on Wednesday, Dec. 11, from 2 to 3 p.m. Join in the popular parade by decorating your golf cart or vintage auto to celebrate the holiday season.

We've had some wonderfully creative carts and vehicles in past years. To be able to complete our parade route, be sure that your golf cart is fully charged and not overloaded. Decorated carts, vintage autos, and other vehicles will line up at 1 p.m., intermixed with emergency vehicles from the fire services and law enforcement. The parade route will be the same as last year. A map will appear in the December issue of the World News.

The annual Holiday Fest will also be on Wednesday, Dec. 11, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Beginning at 6 p.m., cookies, donated by our generous residents, will be served, along with hot chocolate and coffee – all free of charge. We urge the bakers in our community to bring homemade cookies to the Health & Recreation Ballroom between 3 and 5 p.m. There is a sign-up sheet in the lobby of Health & Recreation Building.

Bob Wroblewski will again be our master of ceremonies. The special entertainment for this year will include the Concert Chorus, and a return of the delightful children's dance group, Balcony Dance, under the direction of Miss Meagan. We will also have a Hanukkah presentation by Norma Seidman, and Peggy Campbell will lead us in the traditional sing-a-long.

Of course, all of this entertainment will be followed by our traditional and hilarious "Twelve Days of Christmas" – Southern Style, led by Jean Monroe. We understand that Santa Claus will pay us a visit again this year.

For information about the parade, call Jim Chandler at 237-3139. For information about the Holiday Fest, call Kay Chandler at the same number.

Angel Tree at the Arbor Club

By Ray Cech
World News Writer

In last month's issue of the World News you read all about the good things that the Angel Tree had accomplished last year for the children at Horizon Academy. Now is the time to make wishes and dreams come true once again, for these very deserving children.

Keep in mind that more than 80% of the children at the school qualify for free breakfast and lunch, many of which take food home, as well. With this kind of need, you can imagine that Christmas presents are a pure luxury. So let's give them a hand as we so generously did last year by selecting one or two angels from the tree and bringing a smile of joy to some very deserving children this holiday season. You will be glad you did.

The Angel Tree will be up on Monday, Nov. 4 at the Arbor Club. Gifts may be placed under the tree through Thursday, Nov. 28.
